Afro-Asian Bloc Opens Fire on U.S. China Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A concerted Asian-African attack on the U.S. attempt to bar Red China from the United Nations built up steam today as the General Assembly buckled down to a long, stormy debate on the Chinese seating issue.

Ceylon, one of 17 Asian-African nations which has diplomatic relations with Peiping, launched the drive Monday with one of the sharpest assaults ever made in the United Nations on Washington's China policy.

Ceylonese Ambassador G. P.

Malasekera charged that the United States was building up a "wall of hatred" between the American and Chinese people that could lead to World War III.

He assailed U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's speech to the assembly urging the United Nations to keep the door closed to Red China.

"There are apparently not only two Chinas in American thinking but also two Stevensons," the Ceylonese declared. "There is the Stevenson of the brilliant premises, and alas, to my disappointment, the Stevenson of the same old conclusions."

Communist China, warned Malasekera, will soon become a nuclear power.

"When that day comes," he said, "the United States will be confronted by two mighty nuclear powers, and that two-front war which was America's nightmare in World War II will re-emerge as the double nuclear front of the future."

Delegates anticipated a lot more strong words against America's China policy from a parade of other Asian-African nations including India, which for 11 years has led the drive to seat Peiping in place of Nationalist China.

With 60 speakers still listed to take part, assembly consideration of the issue is expected to continue until Christmas, dashing any hopes that the assembly session will end before the New Year.

Ex-U.N. Aide In Congo Rips London, Paris

NEW YORK (AP) — Conor Cruise O'Brien of Ireland, who quit his post as U.N. chief in Katanga Province with a blast at Britain and France, is ending his 22-year marriage to the wife of the Irish Deputy Prime Minister Sean MacEntee.

O'Brien, 44, announced his plans to divorce the mother of his three children Monday, charging that the British "gutter press" had harped on his relationship with Miss Maire MacEntee "to deflect attention from the Katanga situation."

He said his parting from his wife was amicable and he would marry Miss MacEntee "as soon as possible."

Miss MacEntee, 38, is a lawyer, poetess and specialist in Celtic studies. She worked with O'Brien as a member of the Irish delegation at the United Nations. Friends said the couple shared a love of literature and a faith in the future of the United Nations.

She resigned from the Irish civil service almost immediately after O'Brien resigned from Ireland's diplomatic corps.

O'Brien resigned Saturday, charging that Britain and France brought heavy pressure to frustrate U.N. policy in the Congo and to get him removed as U.N. representative in Katanga.

Britain and France denied the charges but otherwise have refused to comment.

President Booked In Columbus Jan. 6

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is coming to Ohio for the first time since his presidential campaign.

The time: the night of Jan. 6. The place: either the Buckeye Building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus or the Veterans' Memorial Building there.

The occasion: a birthday dinner in honor of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, a Democrat like Kennedy.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy accepted the invitation extended by William L. Coleman, Ohio's Democratic state chairman.

The Democratic party is sponsoring the dinner to honor DiSalle's "distinguished service to the state."

State Ag Secretary Is Sued for Divorce

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — A divorce suit against Ohio Agriculture Director Robert H. Terhune was filed today by Mrs. Anna Belle Terhune.

The suit, filed in Fayette County Common Pleas Court, charges neglect and cruelty. It asks for permanent and temporary alimony, expenses of the suit and attorney's fees.

The couple was married May 30, 1921. They have three adult children.

HELD FOR INVESTIGATION — Robert Jones (right), 18-year-old soldier on furlough, and his brother, Edward, 21, appear in Chattanooga, Tenn., court where the younger brother pleaded guilty to a murder charge and boasted to police of four other killings. Jones' attitude so infuriated Judge Fletcher Morgan that Morgan told him: "If I had final disposition of this case I would sentence you to be executed before sundown today."

Kennedy, Macmillan Book Conference on Bermuda

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will meet in Bermuda Dec. 21 and 22 to outline final strategy for possible Berlin negotiations with the Soviet Union.

The White House announced plans for the conference late Monday.

In addition to their policy talks on Berlin, Kennedy and Macmillan are expected to discuss disarmament negotiations and a course for an agreement to end nuclear weapons testing under an international inspection system. They may issue some new call for cooperation by the Soviet Union to bring the nuclear race under control.

Diplomatic informants in London said Kennedy and Macmillan also were expected to discuss the negotiations now in progress to bring Britain into the European Common Market, ways of tightening Western defenses and the probable meaning of the recent Communist party congress in Moscow and the new de-Stalinization wave it launched.

The official statements also linked the Bermuda conference with "the series of bilateral meetings which are now taking place between the heads of some of the Western governments."

Interlocking Church Group Gets Approval

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — In a major stride toward its goal of worldwide unity of churches, the General Assembly of the World Council of Churches Monday night pledged to work for interlocking church communities rather than a single ecclesiastical organization of all Christians.

The 9,000-word document set forth conditions and relationships the council regards as the goal of church unity and emphasized that "unity does not imply simple uniformity of organization, rite or expression."

It proposed instead a system of interlocking communities on the local, national and international level with mutual recognition of ministries, members and joint participation in the Lord's Supper.

Approval by the 600 delegates — representing the council's 198 Protestant, Orthodox, Old Catholic and other denominations — marked the first time that the world church body has spelled out its thoughts on the pathways to church unity.

The guide outlined various steps for the settlement of problems which mutual obstacles — including mutual study, baptism, ordination and communion — but it admitted that "we are not yet of a common mind" on "the means of achieving the goal we have described."

Anti-Cuba Meet Is Scheduled

American Republics
May Levy Sanctions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign ministers of the American republics will meet next month to consider economic and political sanctions against the Communist government of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The Jan. 10 meeting, site to be designated, was called Monday by the Organization of American States. The OAS Council voted 14 to 2 for a Colombian resolution aimed straight at Cuba, although it didn't mention it by name.

Citing the mutual defense treaty binding the 21 Western Hemisphere nations, Colombia asked a foreign ministers meeting to consider "threats to the peace and political independence of the American states that could arise from the intervention of extra-continental powers."

Only Cuba and Mexico voted no. Mexico based its vote on juridical grounds.

Cuba called the OAS action "an effort by the United States to gain accomplices for a new invasion of Cuba."

If the foreign ministers decide Castro's Cuba is a threat to peace in the Western Hemisphere, they can invoke sanctions similar to those levied against the Trujillo dictatorship in the Dominican Republic. They also can consider other courses of action.

Diplomatic circles said Monday's action was one of the most far-reaching ever taken by the OAS.

Last Saturday Castro in a television speech in Havana announced that he is a Marxist and that Cuba's government is in full accord with Communist ideas.

The position of the 14 countries supporting the anti-Castro proposal in the OAS presumably has been decided before the speech. But the Castro speech may have turned some "no" votes into abstentions. Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador previously had been understood to be considering negative votes. They joined Bolivia in abstaining.

Florida College Group OKs Negro Memberships

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Association of Colleges and Universities voted Monday to allow Negro institutions to apply for membership.

Dr. C. Dren Tharp, vice president of the University of Miami and president of the Florida group, said "all applications for membership will be received and acted upon regardless of race."

There was no elaboration as to how soon in the future such a visit might occur or what countries might be visited.

On the flying expedition to Caracas and Bogota, Kennedy will take part in the dedication of low-cost housing, primary education and rural community improvement projects begun under the Alliance for Progress which he outlined as a major 10-year goal for the United States during his presidential campaign.

Convinced that Sheppard did not receive a fair trial, Mrs. Spangler started collecting signatures three months ago. The signatures came from various parts of Ohio, California, Illinois and Kansas, said Mrs. Spangler. She mailed the petition to the governor Monday.

The Atwater woman said she had followed the case closely when Dr. Sheppard was tried in Cleveland and convicted of second-degree murder for the bludgeoned death of his wife Marilyn.

Dr. Sheppard has maintained that a bushy-haired stranger invaded his lakefront home in Bay Village, a Cleveland suburb, and killed his wife late that night in July, 1954.

"There was no concrete evidence that Dr. Sam did kill his wife, and, in the atmosphere that prevailed in Cleveland during the trial, it was impossible for him to get a fair trial," said Mrs. Spangler.

She decided to act, she said, after reading a book about the case. The book concluded that the only hope for Sheppard is a pardon from the governor.

Sentenced to life imprisonment, Dr. Sheppard will be eligible for a hearing before the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission in 1965.

U.S. Presses Plan For Orbiting Man

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States pressed ahead today toward its goal of orbiting a man around the world this year.

Scientists, engineers and technicians worked round the clock and astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., the chosen pilot, began extensive preparation in a "ready room" not far from the launching pad.

If all goes right, the attempt could be made as early as Dec. 20. Technical problems could delay the launching, and major trouble could push it into 1962.

Glenn moved Monday into special quarters on the Cape so he could be near all key centers of Project Mercury operations.

Not far away are the launching pad where the huge Atlas booster rocket was erected Saturday; the hangar where Glenn's spacecraft is undergoing thorough checkout, the Mercury control center, nerve center of the operation, and a ground-based capsule where he can run through simulated flights of his projected three times around the world mission.

The "ready room" is the same lodging occupied by astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom for a few days before their 15-minute suborbital flights earlier this year.

With a more demanding assignment before him, Glenn, 40, a Marine lieutenant colonel, entered the quarters early to prepare for the flight. He will undergo periodic physical and psychological examinations, bone up on space roadmaps, stars and ground features will be readily recognized when he looks out of his spaceship as it zips around the world at 17,500 miles an hour, and he will hold numerous consultations on progress of the missile and capsule.

Glenn will live in the quarters most of the time until launching. But he will be able to leave the Cape when his training does not restrict him. His wife, Anna, their two children will remain at their home in Arlington, Va.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has not announced that manned orbit will be tried this year. But it is known officials want to achieve it in 1961, the same year as the Soviet Union.

South America Visit Planned By Kennedys

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy will visit Venezuela and Colombia Dec. 16 and 17 to dramatize the Alliance for Progress program for social and economic development of the Western Hemisphere.

The White House announced the trip — long expected — and said Kennedy "hopes to visit other parts of Latin America in the future."

There was no elaboration as to how soon in the future such a visit might occur or what countries might be visited.

On the flying expedition to Caracas and Bogota, Kennedy will take part in the dedication of low-cost housing, primary education and rural community improvement projects begun under the Alliance for Progress which he outlined as a major 10-year goal for the United States during his presidential campaign.

Elisabethville Natives Panic

Tshombe Force's
Battle Secret Bared

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga the Congo (AP) — Widespread fighting broke out between U.N. forces and President Moise Tshombe's Katanga troops in Elisabethville today. Many people fled the city in panic.

Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba, ranking Katanga official in the absence of Tshombe, charged the United Nations started the shooting and declared, "Katanga will fight and defend itself."

He listed nine wounded so far on Katanga's side but said he did not know the extent of U.N. casualties.

The United Nations announced today that 38 Katanga police and paracommandos were counted dead after the military action at a roadblock on the route to Elisabethville Airport. The U.N. said two European mercenary officers also have been killed in the action.

Meanwhile, U.N. Acting Secretary General U Thant ordered jet planes flown into Elisabethville to support anti-Katanga forces.

A U.N. spokesman said the jets would be used to "support ground action by the U.N. troops, and to destroy any aircraft that take hostile action against U.N. positions."

The spokesman said this was in line with U Thant's directive to U.N. forces to take what action they deemed fit to restore order. Brig. K. A. S. Raja, an Indian, has been ordered by U Thant to take over control from U.N. civilian officials in Elisabethville, thus putting the United Nations on a virtual war footing.

The sound of mortar and other firing from several directions started a panic exodus from this capital of secessionist Katanga Province.

Contrary to U.N. reports that all Katanga ministers also had fled, Kimba held a news conference with all ministers present.

Berlin Quiet As Reds End Building Job

BERLIN (AP) — The situation was normal along the Berlin wall again today after completion of formidable new Communist fortifications at the seven crossing points between West and East Berlin.

The East Germans finished work on new walls and tank obstacles at the checkpoints before nightfall and withdrew hundreds of troops that had guarded the 2,500 workmen.

A platoon of 30 U.S. infantrymen, who had faced several hundred East German soldiers, police and factory militia 15 yards away at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point, were withdrawn after the Reds marched off.

This morning it was quiet at Friedrichstrasse and the other crossing points. The situation had returned to normal "if you can call it normal at all," a policeman said.

A U.S. battle group of 1,500 men moved toward tense Berlin to replace another battle group rushed here after the border closure Aug. 13.

Both units will travel across the autobahn, connecting West Berlin with West Germany and crossing 110 miles of Red-ruled territory. The Soviet news agency Tass has called the recent U.S. troop shuttles back and forth along the autobahn provocations "fraught with dangerous consequences." The Russians have not interfered with the traffic.

Busy Schedule Faces Kennedy

New York, Florida
Appearances Booked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, who never made the varsity in his school days, kicks off a busy travel schedule today with a trip to New York to be honored with guests of the game by the National Football Hall of Fame.

Kennedy takes off from National Airport early in the afternoon on a four-day journey that also will bring him before the National Association of Manufacturers in New York and the AFL-CIO and Young Democrats in Miami Beach before he gets back to Washington on Friday.

The New York-Florida venture is the first of three trips anticipated this month. The White House announced Monday Kennedy would meet British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Bermuda on Dec. 21-22.

Kennedy also is expected to visit Colombia and Venezuela in mid-December on what would be his first flight south of the border since taking office.

In New York, Kennedy will receive a gold medal from the National Football Foundation as eight headline players of yesterday and two coaches are inducted into the Hall of Fame. Former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Herbert Hoover were similarly honored in the past.

Kennedy will set forth his tariff and trade proposals at a National Association of Manufacturers luncheon Wednesday. The administration is expected to seek broad powers from Congress to negotiate reciprocal tariff deals with other nations. The effect of international trade, domestic conditions and economy on the millions of U.S. workers likely will be covered in his AFL-CIO speech at Miami Beach the next day.

December's 'Spring' Is Ended Abruptly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A surge of cold air swept across the Midwest today, ending a brief spell of spring-like weather, and headed into the Northeast.

Stiff winds fanned the cold air and temperatures dropped sharply from unseasonably high readings Sunday and Monday. They were more than 30 degrees lower than Monday morning in some cities, including Chicago which had freezing weather after a high of 62, a record for Dec. 4.

The cold weather extended across broad areas in the northern sections of the country, with temperatures near zero in border areas of North Dakota and Minnesota. Readings in the teens chilled sections from the Eastern Dakotas to the extreme northwestern upper Great Lakes. Snow flurries fell in the cold air in parts of the upper Great Lakes.

No taxes, no school for your children, it has told the parents. All schools in the district are being visited by a tax man to check the school lists against the taxpayers' list.

Administration hopes for steady progress toward East-West negotiations on Berlin received a setback over the weekend with blunt Communist rejection of Kennedy's suggestion last week for international control of the access routes to West Berlin across East Germany.

Apparently Kennedy aides had expected a more positive or encouraging response. The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia which published an interview with the President last week said the idea of putting the supply lines to West Berlin under international administration was "doomed to failure."

Jail's Short-Order Business Is Halted

AZTEC, N.M. (AP)—A profitable short-order business was ended at the jail Monday.

Sheriff Floyd Stock said a trusty, Billy J. Blake, 25, Nashville, Tenn., had been working as a cook in the jail kitchen.

Stock learned that for at least a couple of days Blake had been frying hamburgers and cheeseburgers, wrapping them, and delivering them to the other prisoners at 35 to 50 cents each.

Blake has now been moved back to a cell away from the kitchen. Blake is serving a six-month term on a forgery count.

Kansas Rancher Orders Cabinet Aide Off Proposed National Park Land

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—An irate rancher ordered an inspection party including Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall from a 1,000-acre grazing area Monday.

Udall's party, traveling in two helicopters, was viewing the site of the proposed Prairie National Park and setting down at various points.

At one stopping point Carl Bellinger, 50, ordered Udall and his party from the property. Asked if he owned the property, Bellinger told Udall and Rep. William H. Avery, R-Kan., that he didn't, but that he had leased it for grazing and had "the owner's authority to put you off."

The inspection party promptly took off.

Udall later said the rancher's stand was a very human reaction, but he added: "We recognize that some owners would not like to give up their property but if we're going to save a few pieces for future generations, someone has to give."

"This is the first time in my life I've ever been run off a ranch, but I've been chased out of inns," Udall said.

He was referring to an incident last May in Seneca, Md., when he and a group of hikers, including Justice William O. Douglas and Sen. Paul Douglas, approached the Old Anglers' Inn, operated by Mrs. John T. Regis. The group had just completed a 16-mile hike through a rainstorm.

When Udall started to enter, Mrs. Regis ordered him not to come in because of the condition of his clothes. He ate his lunch outside in the rain.

Monday's episode was the prelude to a meeting at Westmoreland, Kan., by a group of farmers and ranchers opposed to the projected park. About 125 persons at-party chief in East Germany, also threw down the suggestion. The Soviet and East German claim is that the United States, Britain, France and West Germany will have to deal with the East German regime to secure their routes to Berlin.

Officials here said that there was no emergency in the Kennedy-Macmillan decision to meet in Bermuda. The White House announcement and the parallel announcement at London said simply that the two leaders felt it would be useful to have an informal discussion of the international situation.

The official statements also linked the Bermuda conference with "the series of bilateral meetings which are now taking place between the heads of some of the Western governments."

Florida College Group OKs Negro Memberships

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Association of Colleges and Universities voted Monday to allow Negro institutions to apply for membership.

Dr. C. Dren Tharp, vice president of the University of Miami and president of the Florida group, said "all applications for membership will be received and acted upon regardless of race."

Kansas Rancher Orders Cabinet Aide Off Proposed National Park Land

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—An irate rancher ordered an inspection party including Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall from a 1,000-acre grazing area Monday.

Udall's party, traveling in two helicopters, was viewing the site of the proposed Prairie National Park and setting down at various points.

At one stopping point Carl Bellinger, 50, ordered Udall and his party from the property. Asked if he owned the property, Bellinger told Udall and Rep. William H. Avery, R-Kan., that he didn't, but that he had leased it for grazing and had "the owner's authority to put you off."

The inspection party promptly took off.

Udall later said the rancher's stand was a very human reaction, but he added: "We recognize that some owners would not like to give up their property but if we're

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States pressed ahead today toward its goal of orbiting a man around the world this year. Scientists, engineers and technicians worked round the clock and astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., the chosen pilot, began extensive preparation in a "ready room" not far from the launching pad.

If all goes right, the attempt could be made as early as Dec. 20. Technical problems could delay the launching, and major trouble could push it into 1962.

Glenn moved Monday into special quarters on the Cape so he could be near all key centers of Project Mercury operations.

Not far away are the launching pad where the huge Atlas booster rocket was erected Saturday; the hangar where Glenn's spacecraft is undergoing thorough checkout, the Mercury control center, nerve center of the operation, and a ground-based capsule where he can run through simulated flights of his projected three times around the world mission.

The "ready room" is the same lodging occupied by astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom for a few days before their 15-minute suborbital flights earlier this year.

With a more demanding assignment before him, Glenn, 40, a Marine lieutenant colonel, entered the quarters early to prepare for the flight. He will undergo periodic physical and psychological examinations, bone up on space roadmaps so stars and ground features will be readily recognized when he looks out of his spaceship as it zips around the world at 17,500 miles an hour, and he will hold numerous consultations on progress of the missile and capsule.

Glenn will live in the quarters most of the time until launching. But he will be able to leave the Cape when his training does not restrict him. His wife, Anna, their two children will remain at their home in Arlington, Va.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has not announced that manned orbit will be tried this year. But it is known officials want to achieve it in 1961, the same year as the Soviet Union.

"Obviously," Nehru told a questioner, "if that is done, we shall resist and repel it."

Nehru said Peiping in a letter received Dec. 2 complained that India was "stepping up military positions and building new posts" in the disputed Ladakh area of Kashmir and also in such areas as Bara Hoti, in Uttar Pradesh State, west of the Tibetan border.

He said the Chinese hinted that "if our military activities are not stopped, they may have to take action by sending troops south of the McMahon Line."

The British-drawn McMahon Line has been the boundary between India's Assam State and Tibet—running from Bhutan east to the Burmese border—since 1903 but the Red Chinese have been claiming 39,000 square miles south of the line. Except for a single Chinese outpost, however, there have been no official reports of Chinese expansion south of the line.

The Reds already have occupied 12,000 square miles claimed by India in Ladakh, and the latest Peiping letter was in reply to an Indian protest that the Communists had pushed their posts even farther into Indian-claimed territory.

There was no elaboration as to how soon in the future such a visit might occur or what countries might be visited.

On the flying expedition to Caracas and Bogota, Kennedy will take part in the dedication of low-cost housing, primary education and rural community improvement projects begun under the Alliance for Progress which he outlined as a major 10-year goal for the United States during his presidential campaign.

Convinced that Sheppard did not receive a fair trial, Mrs. Spangler started collecting signatures three months ago. The signatures came from various parts of Ohio, California, Illinois and Kansas, said Mrs. Spangler. She mailed the petition to the governor Monday.

The Atwater woman said she had followed the case closely when Dr. Sheppard was tried in Cleveland and convicted of second-degree murder for the bludgeoning death of his wife Marilyn.

Dr. Sheppard has maintained that a bushy-haired stranger invaded his lakefront home in Bay Village, a Cleveland suburb, and killed his wife late that night in July, 1954.

"There was no concrete evidence that Dr. Sam did kill his wife, and, in the atmosphere that prevailed in Cleveland during the trial, it was impossible for him to get a fair trial," said Mrs. Spangler.

She decided to act, she said, after reading a book about the case. The book concluded that the only hope for Sheppard is a pardon from the governor.

Sentenced to life imprisonment, Dr. Sheppard will be eligible for a hearing before the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission in 1965.

Elisabethville

uncovered and that fighting was inevitable.

Resenting a new U.N. resolution calling illegal Katanga's secession from the Congo's central government, the Katangans Monday threw up roadblocks to the airport, vital for supplying U.N. forces.

Contrary to the spirit of an agreement that appeared to have eased tension over the barricades, Urquhart said Katanga troops had been discovered advancing through thick bush toward the U.N.-held airport. He charged this was a "final act of bad faith."

Mortar fire and other heavy firing were heard outside the telegraph office, near U.N. headquarters, in the direction of the airport seven miles outside the city and elsewhere.

The Elisabethville radio antenna was damaged by shelling, halting communications with the outside world for a short time.

The firing later stopped and Elisabethville showed signs of slowly coming back to life again after the first shock of the afternoon fighting.

The fighting was the second round of hostilities between U.N. and Katanga forces.

On Sept. 13, U.N. forces moved into Elisabethville and occupied several important points in an effort to rid the secessionist province of foreign mercenaries alleged to be undermining efforts to bring Katanga back under the wings of the central government in Leopoldville.

The fighting ended in a cease-fire agreement after U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold lost his life in an airplane crash en route to truce talks. But intermittent clashes continued.

Relations under the truce worsened after Tshombe made his "poisoned arrow" speech in response to new U.N. Security Council orders to the U.N. Command to use force if necessary to remove the mercenaries. The resolution declared Katanga's secession illegal.

"We don't have rifles and automatic weapons but we do have our poisoned arrows, spears, knives and axes," Tshombe said.

The fighting broke out today after Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba, acting as ranking official in the absence of Tshombe in Paris, agreed to removal of a road block thrown up Monday between the airport and the city. Indian troops guard the airport.

Urquhart said the Katangans not only did not carry out the agreement but set up other barriers isolating Swedish and Irish U.N. camps from the city.

Then the U.N. official announced the discovery of a Katanga battle plan, and said fighting was unavoidable.

He said Katanga ministers, quitting the capital, handed over government affairs to the province's military command.

Katanga workers began fleeing their jobs and an exodus from the city began.

Panic broke out in the streets. Some Africans ran from the town. Others headed for the railroad station.

Court Fines Two for OMVI

Two motorists were fined today by Circleville Municipal Court for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicants.

Edith F. Gaines, 46, of 143 Water St., was fined $150 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had her operator's license suspended for six months for the OMVI conviction. She was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Eugene Karr, 43, Route 1, Laurelville, was fined $300 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail and suffered the loss of his driver's license for three years. He was arrested by the Sheriff's Department.

NEW WAGON FOR 1,348,500 STAMPS—It took 1,348,500 trading stamps to complete the transaction for this new station wagon today at Kenny Hannan Ford. Bible College Buys New Car With Stamps

Trading stamps have become a source of purchasing small household articles, auto accessories and clothing—today a 1962 Ford station wagon was purchased with them.

The transaction conducted at Kenny Hannan Ford by the Circleville Bible College called for 899 books of stamps in exchange for the keys to the 1962 model vehicle.

The Rev. Morton W. Dorsey accepted the keys to the wagon from Kenny Hannan as two officials from a trading stamp company offered congratulations. They were: Paul Jacobs, account executive for the Circleville area, and W. H. Anderson, assistant zone manager for the company.

A total of 1,348,500 stamps were used to fill the 899 books, Rev. Dorsey said.

Rev. Dorsey, head of the local bible college, stated that an appeal was made on August 25, the closing day of the Camp Meeting held on the college grounds, and on November 20, the goal was reached for purchase of the new wagon.

He expressed his appreciation to all who contributed stamps to the college that made the purchase possible. Rev. Dorsey said that he had received stamps from an eight-state area bordering Ohio. "Although the goal has been reached," he said, "I received a full book of stamps in today's mail from Marion, O."

Three Local OSU Students Attend University Meet

Three Pickaway County students at Ohio State University, Columbus, participated in a university convalesce recently in Lincoln Neb.

Members of the Alpha Gamma Sigma Fraternity attending the convalesce from this area were: Mark List, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther List, Route 1; Dwight B. Beougher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Beougher, Route 1, Laurelville; and John Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Reid, near Laurelville.

The members of AGS traveled to Nebraska for a convalesce with four other state universities.

Local members attending the meet are all officers of the fraternity. List is president, Beougher secretary and Reid treasurer of the organization.

Local Swim Team Eyes Future Plans

Fifteen members of the Circleville Swim Club and their parents met Thursday evening in the high school auditorium for a discussion of future swim meets.

Plans were made for team members to visit the Lancaster YMCA swimming pool to drill on competitive strokes, starts and turns, and to keep "in shape" for meets that will be scheduled later.

Charles Ransom, swim coach, indicated that after the team has had ample time for practice, a meet will be set with the winter swimming team of Lancaster.

Plans will be completed for the first swim meet at a meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. tomorrow in the high school auditorium.

Resenting a new U.N. resolution calling illegal Katanga's secession from the Congo's central government, the Katangans Monday threw up roadblocks to the airport, vital for supplying U.N. forces.

Contrary to the spirit of an agreement that appeared to have eased tension over the barricades, Urquhart said Katanga troops had been discovered advancing through thick bush toward the U.N.-held airport. He charged this was a "final act of bad faith."

Mortar fire and other heavy firing were heard outside the telegraph office, near U.N. headquarters, in the direction of the airport seven miles outside the city and elsewhere.

The Elisabethville radio antenna was damaged by shelling, halting communications with the outside world for a short time.

The firing later stopped and Elisabethville showed signs of slowly coming back to life again after the first shock of the afternoon fighting.

The fighting was the second round of hostilities between U.N. and Katanga forces.

On Sept. 13, U.N. forces moved into Elisabethville and occupied several important points in an effort to rid the secessionist province of foreign mercenaries alleged to be undermining efforts to bring Katanga back under the wings of the central government in Leopoldville.

The fighting ended in a cease-fire agreement after U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld lost his life in an airplane crash en route to truce talks. But intermittent clashes continued.

Relations under the truce worsened after Tshombe made his "poisoned arrow" speech in response to new U.N. Security Council orders to the U.N. Command to use force if necessary to remove the mercenaries. The resolution declared Katanga's secession illegal.

"We don't all have rifles and automatic weapons but we do have our poisoned arrows, spears, knives and axes," Tshombe said.

The fighting broke out today after Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba, acting as ranking official in the absence of Tshombe in Paris, agreed to removal of a road block thrown up Monday between the airport and the city. Indian troops guard the airport.

Urquhart said the Katangans not only did not carry out the agreement but set up other barriers isolating Swedish and Irish U.N. camps from the city.

Then the U.N. official announced the discovery of a Katanga battle plan, and said fighting was unavoidable.

He said Katanga ministers, quitting the capital, handed over government affairs to the province's military command.

Katanga workers began fleeing their jobs and an exodus from the city began.

Panic broke out in the streets. Some Africans ran from the town. Others headed for the railroad station.

Court Fines Two for OMVI

Two motorists were fined today by Circleville Municipal Court for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicants.

Edith F. Gaines, 46, of 143 Water St., was fined $150 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had her operator's license suspended for six months for the OMVI conviction. She was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Eugene Karr, 43, Route 1, Laurelville, was fined $300 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail and suffered the loss of his driver's license for three years. He was arrested by the Sheriff's Department.

NEW WAGON FOR 1,348,500 STAMPS — It took 1,348,500 trading stamps to complete the transaction for this new station wagon today at Kenny Hannan Ford. Bible College Buys New Car With Stamps

Trading stamps have become a source of purchasing small household articles, auto accessories and clothing — today a 1962 Ford station wagon was purchased with them.

The transaction conducted at Kenny Hannan Ford by the Circleville Bible College called for 899 books of stamps in exchange for the keys to the 1962 model vehicle.

The Rev. Morton W. Dorsey accepted the keys to the wagon from Kenny Hannan as two officials from a trading stamp company offered congratulations. They were: Paul Jacobs, account executive for the Circleville area, and W. H. Anderson, assistant zone manager for the company.

A total of 1,348,500 stamps were used to fill the 899 books, Rev. Dorsey said.

Rev. Dorsey, head of the local bible college, stated that an appeal was made on August 25, the closing day of the Camp Meeting held on the college grounds, and on November 20, the goal was reached for purchase of the new wagon.

He expressed his appreciation to all who contributed stamps to the college that made the purchase possible. Rev. Dorsey said that he had received stamps from an eight-state area bordering Ohio. "Although the goal has been reached," he said, "I received a full book of stamps in today's mail from Marion, O."

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Put Your Foot Down!

DEAR ABBY: I really got a kick out of "Church Widow." I am a preacher's husband. My home runs itself, and of late it sickens me to come home. Twenty-minute meals, no real cleaning, beds unmade until she hears my footsteps and, worst of all, children left on their own.

My crusading wife is determined that "The world must be warned of the imminent end of this system of things" and is devoting practically all her time to this cause.

I am seriously thinking of taking a second look at someone I have avoided for many years.

My wife can recite the Scriptures, but, may I ask, is not the proof of goodness in daily living? Have you the courage to print this?

"FATHER"

DEAR "FATHER": I have the courage to print it, but that won't solve anything. Have YOU the courage to bring your wife down to earth? I couldn't agree more that "the proof of goodness is in daily living." Your wife could be more than "dedicated." She could be ill.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl and I don't know how to kiss a boy. I mean I know HOW to kiss all right, but I don't know who is supposed to stop the kiss, the boy or the girl? Please put the answer in your column as I think I will have a chance to use it soon. Thank you.

LACKING EXPERIENCE

DEAR LACKING: A kiss should "end" just as it begins. In unspoken mutual agreement.

DEAR ABBY: Christmas is coming and I am on the brink of telling my parents and in-laws what to give my children. At every gift-giving occasion I am simply FLOORED by their selections. We have 3 children under five and our budget is so tight we aren't able to buy big blocks of riding toys that provide lasting enjoyment.

At Christmastime well-meaning grandparents squander good money on a lot of little poorly-made wind-up toys and stuffed animals to be dragged on the floor to gather dirt. (I've yet to get one that is machine-washable.) Most have glass eyes that can be swallowed, felt tongues that fade, small toy cars with metal that bends in your fingers or wheels that fall off. Miniature housekeeping kits with thumb-sized "soap" and clothespins are ideal for a child to stick up his nose or swallow.

Please ask parents to consider the practical side of giving. Give one good thing that will last at least until New Year's.

Don't embarrass me by using my name. Sign this.....

CONFIDENTIAL TO CURLY: Tell her the truth, and don't worry about the consequences. She'll NEVER believe it!

GI Boasts About Killings

Youth, 18, Admits Pair of Shootings

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A pimply-faced, duck-tailed GI who boasted "You can't fry me but once" has told police of a three-week killing spree from Chicago to Chattanooga.

The soldier, Robert Allen Jones, 18, was charged today with murder in the death of Chattanooga cab driver John P. Womack, 28, last week. Officers said Jones also admitted shooting Gerald Shibe, 53, of Seymour, Ind., Nov. 14.

In both cases, he said, he shot and robbed his victims. But he added disgustedly, "I only got $15 from the cabbie. It wasn't even worth my time and trouble."

Officers said he sold Shibe's car in which the Indiana man gave him a ride, in Chattanooga last week.

Officers said Jones told them he killed "four and possibly five" men in the Chicago area. None of these deaths had been confirmed, the detective chief, M. W. Upchurch, said, but Chicago officers are expected here to question him.

"I ain't got nothing to lose and there is no doubt that I'm going to burn, so I might as well tell you everything," Jones said.

Jones and his brother, Edward Earl Jones, 26, of Chicago, were arrested at the home of their grandfather in Gadsden, Ala., Friday night and charged in a $400 liquor store holdup here two nights earlier. The younger Jones, who says he had been home on leave from the Army in Munich, German, had Shibe's credit cards.

Smut Hearing Postponed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arraignment of David King, news delator indicted on charges of selling obscene books, has been postponed until Monday.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro is an emotional Marxist, not an intellectual one. And, because he is, his road to communism in Cuba should continue to be unpredictable erratic, opportunistic, and probably bloody and chaotic.

The difference between intellect and emotion in Castro was spelled out in his Saturday broadcast in which he explained how long it took him to become a Marxist-Leninist.

But then, admitting he is taking Cuba into communism, he said his program will be "Marxist-Leninist but adapted to conditions existing in our country."

This makes him no less a problem for the United States but in time it should also make him a problem for both Moscow and Peking.

The Russians and Red Chinese are having trouble enough with one another on what road to take without seeing Castro riding off in still another direction like Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

It is no wonder Premier Khrushchev, in his Vienna talk with President Kennedy last June, called Castro unstable and said he is not a Communist.

Castro listed three stages in his development which show he became a Marxist as a result of events and not of a cool intellectual determination.

When he was a student in Havana, son of a rich landowner, he was not a Marxist because he was influenced, he said, by capitalist propaganda. This would indicate he was then anti-Communist. He was 23 when he was graduated from Havana University in 1950 with a law degree and a doctorate.

At 26, he said, his thinking was pretty much as it is now. But, if he can be believed, this can hardly have been the case since he then said he didn't become a Marxist-Leninist until he took over Cuba three years ago at 32.

The Cuban Communists had doubts about him. When he was fighting in the hills against the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista, which he toppled at the beginning of 1959, the Communists refused to take part in a general strike he called for.

At that time, a State Department white paper said earlier this year, "when Castro first went to the hills the Cuban Communist party dismissed him as 'bourgeois' and 'putschist.'"

As recently as Nov. 27, 1960, Max Frankel, writing in the New York Times about interviews he had with Communist leaders, almost two years after Castro came to power, said: "The party has had its differences with Dr. Castro but they occurred, in the words of one of its leaders, 'before he understood.'"

One of the leaders told Frankel: "In the early days after Castro seized power here the Communist party had many disagreements with him about tactics and ideology. Gradually, however, it was able to convince him that anti-communism was a threat to his revolution and power."

"Thereafter, the ideological differences withered away until now there are only 'little things between us.' Premier Castro does not like a few of our ideas and we do not like a few of his—nothing important."

In short, Castro was had. He bought Marxism not because he had thought it through but because it gave him some sense of direction, which he didn't seem to have, and, above all, it was expedient.

He may have a social consciousness, but if he has a political philosophy it is expediency. If anyone doubts it, look at the record.

On Jan. 8, 1959, a few days after he took over, he promised to "give the people love." Since then he has executed over 600 people.

The State Department white paper sums it up ("The history of the Castro revolution has been the history of the calculated destruction of the free-spirited rebel army—of the disillusion, persecution, imprisonment, exile, and execution of men and women who supported Dr. Castro.")

He promised, before he took over, to adhere to the Cuban constitution and he guaranteed freedom of speech and all rights. He went back on them all later.

Castro, judged by his own words and actions, is a man stumbling from one year into the next.

Youth, 18, Flees Painesville Jail

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old youth from Mentor-on-the-Lake broke out of Lake County jail early Monday.

Sheriff's deputies said Gary R. Elliot pried apart bars covering a light fixture in his second-floor cell, knocked out the fixture and crawled to the roof through a hole about 10 inches square. He apparently got to the ground on a metal ladder attached to the building for a remodeling project.

Elliot was being held for the grand jury on a breaking and entering charge in connection with a restaurant in Willowick.

Cincinnati Finances Expected To Be Rough

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati faces a tight financial situation next year, said Eugene Ruehlman, chairman of City Council's Finance Committee, as the committee began its review of the 1962 budget proposed by City Manager C. A. Harrell.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Put Your Foot Down!

DEAR ABBY: I really got a kick out of "Church Widow." I am a preacher's husband. My home runs itself, and of late it sickens me to come home. Twenty-minute meals, no real cleaning, beds unmade until she hears my footsteps and, worst of all, children left on their own.

My crusading wife is determined that "The world must be warned of the imminent end of this system of things" and is devoting practically all her time to this cause.

I am seriously thinking of taking a second look at someone I have avoided for many years.

My wife can recite the Scriptures, but, may I ask, is not the proof of goodness in daily living? Have you the courage to print this?

"FATHER"

DEAR "FATHER": I have the courage to print it, but that won't solve anything. Have YOU the courage to bring your wife down to earth? I couldn't agree more that "the proof of goodness is in daily living." Your wife could be more than "dedicated." She could be ill.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl and I don't know how to kiss a boy. I mean I know HOW to kiss all right, but I don't know who is supposed to stop the kiss, the boy or the girl? Please put the answer in your column as I think I will have a chance to use it soon. Thank you.

LACKING EXPERIENCE
DEAR LACKING: A kiss should "end" just as it begins. In un-

spoken mutual agreement.

DEAR ABBY: Christmas is coming and I am on the brink of telling my parents and in-laws what to give my children. At every gift-giving occasion I am simply FLOORED by their selections. We have 3 children under five and our budget is so tight we aren't able to buy big blocks or riding toys that provide lasting enjoyment.

At Christmastime well-meaning grandparents squander good money on a lot of little poorly-made wind-up toys and stuffed animals to be dragged on the floor to gather dirt. (I've yet to get one that is machine-washable.) Most have glass eyes that can be swallowed, felt tongues that fade, small toy cars with metal that bends in your fingers or wheels that fall off. Miniature housekeeping kits with thumb-sized "soap" and clothespins are ideal for a child to stick up his nose or swallow.

Please ask parents to consider the practical side of giving. Give one good thing that will last at least until New Year's.

Don't embarrass me by using my name. Sign this.....

GI Boasts About Killings

Youth, 18, Admits Pair of Shootings

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A pimply-faced, duck-tailed GI who boasted "You can't fry me but once" has told police of a three-week killing spree from Chicago to Chattanooga.

The soldier, Robert Allen Jones, 18, was charged today with murder in the death of Chattanooga cab driver John P. Womack, 28, last week. Officers said Jones also admitted shooting Gerald Shibe, 53, of Seymour, Ind., Nov. 14.

In both cases, he said, he shot and robbed his victims. But he added disgustedly, "I only got $15 from the cabbie. It wasn't even worth my time and trouble."

Officers said he sold Shibe's car in which the Indiana man gave him a ride, in Chattanooga last week.

Officers said Jones told them he killed "four or possibly five" men in the Chicago area. None of these deaths had been confirmed, the detective chief, M. W. Upchurch, said, but Chicago officers are expected here to question him.

"I ain't got nothing to lose and there is no doubt that I'm going to burn, so I might as well tell you everything," Jones said.

Jones and his brother, Edward Earl Jones, 26, of Chicago, were arrested at the home of their grandfather in Gadsden, Ala., Friday night and charged in a $400 liquor store holdup here two nights earlier. The younger Jones, who says he had been home on leave from the Army in Munich, German, had Shibe's credit cards.

Smut Hearing Postponed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arraignment of David King, news delator indicted on charges of selling obscene books, has been postponed until Monday.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro is an emotional Marxist, not an intellectual one. And, because he is, his road to communism in Cuba should continue to be unpredictable, erratic, opportunistic, and probably bloody and chaotic.

The difference between intellect and emotion in Castro was spelled out in his Saturday broadcast in which he explained how long it took him to become a Marxist-Leninist.

But then, admitting he is taking Cuba into communism, he said his program will be "Marxist-Leninist but adapted to conditions existing in our country."

This makes him no less a problem for the United States but in time it should also make him a problem for both Moscow and Peking.

The Russians and Red Chinese are having trouble enough with one another on what road to take without seeing Castro riding off in still another direction like Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

It is no wonder Premier Khrushchev, in his Vienna talk with President Kennedy last June, called Castro unstable and said he is not a Communist.

Castro listed three stages in his development which show he became a Marxist as a result of events and not of a cool intellectual determination.

When he was a student in Havana, son of a rich landowner, he was not a Marxist because he was influenced, he said, by capitalist propaganda. This would indicate he was then anti-Communist. He was 23 when he was graduated from Havana University in 1950 with a law degree and a doctorate.

At 26, he said, his thinking was pretty much as it is now. But, if he can be believed, this can hardly have been the case since he then said he didn't become a Marxist-Leninist until he took over Cuba three years ago at 32.

The Cuban Communists had doubts about him. When he was fighting in the hills against the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista, which he toppled at the beginning of 1959, the Communists refused to take part in a general strike he called for.

At that time, a State Department white paper said earlier this year, "when Castro first went to the hills the Cuban Communist party dismissed him as 'bourgeois' and 'putschist.'"

As recently as Nov. 27, 1960, Max Frankel, writing in the New York Times about interviews he had with Communist leaders almost two years after Castro came to power, said: "The party has had its differences with Dr. Castro but they occurred, in the words of one of its leaders, 'before he understood.'"

One of the leaders told Frankel: "In the early days after Castro seized power here the Communist party had many disagreements with him about tactics and ideology. Gradually, however, it was able to convince him that anti-communism was a threat to his revolution and power."

"Thereafter, the ideological differences withered away until now there are only 'little things between us.'" Premier Castro does not like a few of our ideas and we do not like a few of his—nothing important."

In short, Castro was had. He bought Marxism not because he had thought it through but because it gave him some sense of direction, which he didn't seem to have, and, above all, it was expedient.

He may have a social consciousness, but if he has a political philosophy it is expediency. If anyone doubts it, look at the record.

Yule Season in Full Swing

The Yuletide season, the busiest of the year, is getting under way with a vengeance and soon will be in full swing in stores, post offices and in every commercial and institutional establishment that annually is deluged with business during the December boom.

Although the last few days before Christmas still are a nightmare for clerks in stores and post offices, the mail man, and all those who qualify as Santa's assistants, campaigns which were carried on for years to spread Christmas buying and mailing during a period of roughly 30 days before the big event have had the effect of

Consumer Buying Lagging

There is some debate in Washington about why consumer buying is lagging behind the pace of industrial recovery. If it doesn't pick up, industries will be set back in their production schedules, is the contention.

The automobile industry supplies the answer. With few 1961 models left in stock, dealers are finding it difficult in many instances to meet the demand for new cars. Low inventories are holding up sales rises in other lines.

There is a theory that the tense international situation and war scares are hurting business. It doesn't sound plausible. If people were really scared, they would

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas spirit must be inspiring both the business statisticians and the business soothsayers. The news leans heavily today to the jolly side. The predictions, as you might guess, are even cheerier.

Most official figures pouring out of government agencies and industry's haunts plot an upward trend in business activity. Many sight records in the making for December—such as in retail sales volume. Most of the rest chart the emergency from the early fall lull and resumption of the advance in industrial output and orders.

The soothsayers go farther. One group of business economists porting over the weekend to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce sees 1962 setting records in production, income and profits.

Backing them up are such items as these:

Steel orders finally have begun to mount — perhaps to build up stocks in the first half of 1962 as a hedge against a possible steel strike in the summer. Mills are beginning to plan increased output. This has been holding close to 70 per cent of capacity for some time, but some say it could soon rise to 80 per cent.

Auto retail sales have perked up. And some think output this month could top last December by 20 per cent or more.

One tip here is that consumer debt has begun to rise, with most of the increase in installment credit in auto paper. The latest

Soviet Chides 'Big Stick' Policy by JFK

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia says President Kennedy's suggestion that the autobahn linking Berlin and West Germany be placed under international control seems to be a "big stick" policy. It told him to forget the idea because it is "doomed to failure."

The Kremlin organ chided the President for what it called a "cock and bull" charge that the Soviet Union is out to communize the world.

Commenting on the interview Kennedy gave Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei, the paper said the President put forward "quite a few reasonable ideas" — but these were not among them.

Izvestia upheld the "sacred right" of the East German Communist regime to regulate ground, river and air traffic within its territory and declared: "No state which prizes its sovereignty has ever allowed the establishment of international control over its roads."

The autobahn—a superhighway cutting across 110-miles of Communist territory—is the only road route the Western Allies have to Berlin and they have insisted on their right of free movement over the highway. Soviet guards man checkpoints on the road under the four-power occupation agreement.

A HOUSEWIFE bought one of those new electric washing machines which does virtually everything but talk, but called up the service department the next day to say that the darn thing wasn't functioning properly. A repairman came to investigate, and tossed a couple of pairs of socks and a frayed shirt into the machine.

In two shakes of a lamb's tail, the clothing was washed, dried, ironed, and folded—then tossed across the room where it landed tidily in the left-hand dresser drawer.

"What's wrong with that, lady?" asked the repairman.

"Can't you see?" rasped the housewife. "I always keep my husband's socks in the RIGHT-HAND drawer."

Inside You and Yours

Imagine! Lungs so full of air you can't breathe!

That's emphysema — air trapped inside the lungs. Emphysema thick mucus and bronchial spasm narrow tiny air passages.

Normally, you lift your ribs and lower both diaphragm muscles to inhale. When these muscles relax elastic lungs squeeze out inhaled air.

But squeezed, narrowed passages often clog completely. Air gushes in, but not out. Emphysema!

Bulging forward and upward, with ribs wide apart, your over-inflated chest resembles a barrel. Trapped air lowers the diaphragm partly out of action, too. You have to work harder to breathe — and breathe harder to work.

Meanwhile, this trapped air crushes millions of tiny blood vessels where oxygen usually seeps into the circulation.

Your doctor can prescribe bronchial-relaxing medicines; also, a new breath — strengthener that whips up the brain's breathing control center. Special machines can force down mucus-dissolving mists or help you cough.

Iodine prescriptions, steam vapor and cold mist all lubricate air passages. Supply inside moisture by drinking 3 quarts of fluid daily.

With the foot of the bed raised 12 inches, mucus should pour out of the lower half of the lungs. The upper half drains when you stand and walk around.

Angry Stockholders

By George Sokolsky

I recently saw a photograph of myself in "The New York Times" giving the devil to a professional angry stockholder. According to the Anderson, South Carolina, "Mail".

"Stockholder meetings are always enlivened by the appearance of Lewis D. Gilbert, author of 'Dividends and Democracy' and other published works, who spends all of his time at annual company meetings and stirs the wrath of many corporation executives."

Of course, a stockholder is entirely within his rights when he asks a question politely; if he is ill-mannered, he should be thrown out of the room. The assumption that a man may be rude because he owns a share of stock is nonsense. When a man is rude, he should be treated according to his manners. It is not necessary to tolerate bad manners. Gilbert could be useful if he chose to be.

That, it seems to me, is the issue. The officers of a corporation are not sacrosanct personalities but no one needs to accept abuse, interruption, impudence from anybody. Too often officers of corporations are advised by their lawyers and public relations counsel to accept any abuse from stockholders on the assumption that a few words at a meeting will quickly be forgotten.

This theory is all wrong unless the officers are afraid of questions or criticism. If they have done nothing wrong, they need not accept impudence from anyone. Even if they have erred, the discussion ought to be orderly and gentlemanly. There are those who make it their business to go from stockholders' meeting to stockholders' meeting for the fun of it. Busy men should not be subjected to that sort of nonsense and if they lack the courage to stand up and fight, they deserve what they get.

The fact of the matter is that the function of an industry is to make goods and profits. There was no question about profits in the 19th century but in the middle of the 20th century, industry finds itself managed not by those who own an industry but by employees whose collars are slightly whiter than those of their colleagues.

These management workers have come out of the supervisory and sales forces of a company and are too often altogether unrelated to ownership. Their attitude is identical to that of the worker. They seek fringe benefits rather than wages. Their fringe benefits often consist of stock options or pensions which grow increasingly more costly to industry. Often management develops tenure as the hourly worker does and having tenure, cares nothing about profits. He uses other people's money without recognizing that profits are the essential of industry and that it is not sound economics in the capitalist system for management to take the cream off the top — the cream that rightly belongs to the owner of the stock.

This situation arises from the fact that there is a startling shortage of able manpower in management. It is common practice in industry for a company to steal ability from other companies by offering special benefits for reputed capabilities. I say "reputed capabilities" because the reputation does not always go along with accomplishment. The assumption that a man can run a shop is meaningless unless the shop makes a profit. The only yardstick of ability is profit. If a foreman can earn a profit which his boss cannot, the foreman is a preferable person in management.

When we speak of our industry falling behind, what we actually mean is that the production is unprofitable, that the industry is not producing new and additional capital, that management is stuff-shirted but incompetent. Thus large enterprises, that look wonderful in reports, actually are failures and are sooner or later acquired by smarter entrepreneurs because they are unprofitable.

The word "growth" has moved into the industrial picture with the object of covering up failure to produce profits. Instead of a profit, there is growth. Over a period of time, unless the growth produces profits, the enterprise becomes stagnant. Growth literally means nothing unless the company that is built by acquisitions produces profits. Too much energy and capital goes into piling up bigness which is useless if it produces no profits but looks big.

All this such an inquiring stockholder as Lewis Gilbert can say without turning a stockholders' meeting into a shenanigan.

Yule Season in Full Swing

The Yuletide season, the busiest of the year, is getting under way with a vengeance and soon will be in full swing in stores, post offices and in every commercial and institutional establishment that annually is deluged with business during the December boom.

Although the last few days before Christmas still are a nightmare for clerks in stores and post offices, the mail man, and all those who qualify as Santa's assistants, campaigns which were carried on for years to spread Christmas buying and mailing during a period of roughly 30 days before the big event have had the effect of

There is some debate in Washington about why consumer buying is lagging behind the pace of industrial recovery. If it doesn't pick up, industries will be set back in their production schedules, is the contention.

The automobile industry supplies the answer. With few 1961 models left in stock, dealers are finding it difficult in many instances to meet the demand for new cars. Low inventories are holding up sales rises in other lines.

There is a theory that the tense international situation and war scares are hurting business. It doesn't sound plausible. If people were really scared, they would

Bankers report consumers are already grading their buying ideas upward, with savings programs in a down phase. "Fright" doesn't enter into it. Consumers simply feel more prosperous and are in a mood to gratify some of their deferred wants. If there is any scare buying, it is more likely in the area of inflation fears.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas spirit must be inspiring both the business statisticians and the business soothsayers. The news leans heavily today to the jolly side. The predictions, as you might guess, are even cheerier.

Most official figures pouring out of government agencies and industry's haunts plot an upward trend in business activity. Many sight records in the making for December—such as in retail sales volume. Most of the rest chart the emergency from the early fall lull and resumption of the advance in industrial output and orders.

The soothsayers go farther. One group of business economists porting over the weekend to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce sees 1962 setting records in production, income and profits.

Backing them up are such items as these:

Steel orders finally have begun to mount — perhaps to build up stocks in the first half of 1962 as a hedge against a possible steel strike in the summer. Mills are beginning to plan increased output. This has been holding close to 70 per cent of capacity for some time, but some say it could soon rise to 80 per cent.

Auto retail sales have perked up. And some think output this month could top last December by 20 per cent or more.

One tip here is that consumer debt has begun to rise, with most of the increase in installment credit in auto paper. The latest reported gain is the biggest in almost a year.

Spending on construction, both current and planned, has begun to rise. The Department of Commerce is particularly impressed by the outlook for home building. It estimates 1.3 million private housing units will have been started this year by New Year's Eve. And it thinks that next year another 1.4 million will be going up. Public housing is put at 50,000 units this year and 55,000 next.

Business spending for new plant and equipment also is expected to rise next year. Higher costs will account for some of the increase. But if output and profits advance as some hope, the physical volume of construction will be up, too.

At the consumer level, economists note with joy that sales volume is on the increase. The latest weekly figure on department store sales show them 6 per cent above the like week of 1960. Predictions of total Christmas sales this year run 4 to 6 per cent ahead of last year. Shoppers are reported buying carefully but not pinching pennies when they find what they want.

Both merchants and manufacturers are taking comfort from the state of the money market. The money managers are seeing to it that the banks have plenty of reserves for financing Christmas trade and for making loans when and if industrialists want them for expanding activity. And the economists have their own source of comfort. Despite all the optimism that has bubbled up of late, there's no sign yet of a runaway boom psychology that could be dangerous. Purchasing agents report ordering is still being held within realistic bounds. Expansion plans are being tailored close to reasonable expectations of industrial demand.

Soviet Chides 'Big Stick' Policy by JFK

MOSCOW (WAP) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia says President Kennedy's suggestion that the autobahn linking Berlin and West Germany be placed under international control seems to be a "big stick" policy. It told him to forget the idea because it is "doomed to failure."

The Kremlin organ chided the President for what it called a "cock and bull" charge that the Soviet Union is out to communize the world.

Commenting on the interview Kennedy gave Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei, the paper said the President put forward "quite a few reasonable ideas" — but these were not among them.

Izvestia upheld the "sacred right" of the East German Communist regime to regulate ground, river and air traffic within its territory and declared: "No state which prizes its sovereignty has ever allowed the establishment of international control over its roads."

The autobahn—a superhighway cutting across 110-miles of Communist territory—is the only road route the Western Allies have to Berlin and they have insisted on their right of free movement over the highway. Soviet guards man checkpoints on the road under the four-power occupation agreement.

A HOUSEWIFE bought one of those new electric washing machines which does virtually everything but talk, but called up the service department the next day to say that the darn thing wasn't functioning properly. A repairman came to investigate, and tossed a couple of pairs of socks and a frayed shirt into the machine.

In two shakes of a lamb's tail, the clothing was washed, dried, ironed, and folded—then tossed across the room where it landed tidily in the left-hand dresser drawer.

"What's wrong with that, lady?" asked the repairman. "Can't you see?" rasped the housewife. "I always keep my husband's socks in the RIGHT-HAND drawer."

Inside You and Yours

Imagine! Lungs so full of air you can't breathe!

That's emphysema — air trapped inside the lungs. Emphysema thick mucus and bronchial spasm narrow tiny air passages.

Normally, you lift your ribs and lower both diaphragm muscles to inhale. When these muscles relax elastic lungs squeeze out inhaled air.

But squeezed, narrowed passages often clog completely. Air rushes in, but not out. Emphysema!

Bulging forward and upward, with ribs wide apart, your over-inflated chest resembles a barrel. Trapped air lowers the diaphragm partly out of action, too. You have to work harder to breathe — and breathe harder to work.

Meanwhile, this trapped air crushes millions of tiny blood vessels where oxygen usually seeps into the circulation.

Your doctor can prescribe bronchial-relaxing medicines; also, a new breath — strengthener that whips up the brain's breathing control center. Special machines can force down mucus-dissolving mists or help you cough.

Iodine prescriptions, steam vapor and cold mist all lubricate air passages. Supply inside moisture by drinking 3 quarts of fluid daily. With the foot of the bed raised 12 inches, mucus should pour out of the lower half of the lungs. The upper half drains when you stand and walk around.

Irritating smog and smoke can explode mild emphysema into serious trouble. Smoking is out.

You have to learn to breathe with your diaphragm.

Lie on your back with your feet raised. Place 2 or 3 digest magazines just below your breastbone. Sniff and snort with your tummy relaxed. The magazines should move as you inhale.

Tense your abdomen and whistle or hum to blow air out. Like a giant plunger, your liver should push the diaphragm up, forcing out extra air. Practice 10 times an hour.

And in between is hum or whistle while you breathe! Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Angry Stockholders

By George Sokolsky

I recently saw a photograph of myself in "The New York Times" giving the devil to a professional angry stockholder. According to the Anderson, South Carolina, "Mail"

"Stockholder meetings are always enlivened by the appearance of Lewis D. Gilbert, author of 'Dividends and Democracy' and other published works, who spends all of his time at annual company meetings and stirs the wrath of many corporation executives."

Of course, a stockholder is entirely within his rights when he asks a question politely; if he is ill-mannered, he should be thrown out of the room. The assumption that a man may be rude because he owns a share of stock is nonsense. When a man is rude, he should be treated according to his manners. It is not necessary to tolerate bad manners. Gilbert could be useful if he chose to be.

That, it seems to me, is the issue. The officers of a corporation are not sacrosanct personalities but no one needs to accept abuse, interruption, impudence from anybody. Too often officers of corporations are advised by their lawyers and public relations counsel to accept any abuse from stockholders on the assumption that a few words at a meeting will quickly be forgotten.

This theory is all wrong unless the officers are afraid of questions or criticism. If they have done nothing wrong, they need not accept impertinence from anyone. Even if they have erred, the discussion ought to be orderly and gentlemanly. There are those who make it their business to go from stockholders' meeting to stockholders' meeting for the fun of it. Busy men should not be subjected to that sort of nonsense and if they lack the courage to stand up and fight, they deserve what they get.

The fact of the matter is that the function of an industry is to make goods and profits. There is no question about profits in the 19th century but in the middle of the 20th century, industry finds itself managed not by those who own an industry but by employees whose collars are slightly whiter than those of their colleagues.

These management workers have come out of the supervisory and sales forces of a company and are too often altogether unrelated to ownership. Their attitude is identical to that of the worker. They seek fringe benefits rather than wages. Their fringe benefits often consist of stock options or pensions which grow increasingly more costly to industry. Often management develops tenure as the hourly worker does and having tenure, cares nothing about profits. He uses other people's money without recognizing that profits are the essential of industry and that it is not sound economics in the capitalist system for management to take the cream off the top — the cream that rightly belongs to the owner of the stock. This situation arises from the fact that there is a startling shortage of able manpower in management. It is common practice in industry for a company to steal ability from other companies by offering special benefits for reputed capabilities. I say "reputed capabilities" because the reputation does

U.S. Offers U.N. Deal For Cooperation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson appealed Monday for immediate adoption of a four-point program of international cooperation in outer space to prevent "a runaway race into the unknown."

The chief U.S. delegate laid before the main U.N. Political Committee a resolution urging that steps be taken immediately to get global weather and communication projects under way without further delay.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin said he would comment on the proposals after he had studied them.

Stevenson offered to make U.S. space satellites available for use in international programs designed to improve weather forecasting and to establish worldwide television programs to speed the flow of educational and cultural information.

In a move to meet Soviet objections to the composition of the U.N. outer space committee, Stevenson proposed that two new African countries be added to expand the membership from 24 to 26 nations. These proposed members were Chad and Nigeria. The Soviets have been insisting that the troika principle be accepted, giving equal representation to Communist, Western and nonaligned countries.

The U.S. program also proposed a U.N. declaration aimed at internationalizing all planets and other outer space bodies and called for the establishment of international registration of all space vehicles launchings.

Public School Prayer Faces Court Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Monday to consider whether it is unconstitutional for prayers to be said in public schools.

A petition submitted by parents of nine children in four schools in New Hyde Park, N.Y., contends the offering of prayer in schools violates the Constitution's principle of separation of church and state.

The New York State Board of Regents, the governing body of the state's public school system, had recommended to all local school boards that this prayer be used daily in opening exercises: "Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers, and our country."

The objecting parents said they were, variously, members of the Jewish faith, the Unitarian Church, the Society for Ethical Culture, and one parent is a non-believer.

They appealed to the high tribunal after New York courts ruled the prayer did not violate the Constitution.

Stayton told a newsman that he would appeal the sentence. He prepared to post $500 bond.

Judge Brumfield, before imposing the sentence, said he was disturbed by the situation here in which "soul is pitted against soul."

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

SYNOPSIS: Ferdinand, the king of Polydora, is dictating his letter to Santa Claus when suddenly there is an enormous crash. A palace watchman rushes in to announce that the sky has fallen!

CHAPTER TWO THE BIG HOLE

The king and his secretary peered out from under the mountain of detective stories that had buried them when the mysterious crash shook the palace.

"What on earth happened?" stammered the secretary.

"It — it's the sky!" cried the wide-eyed watchman. "It has fallen in the Public Square!"

"Nonsense!" murmured the King as he crawled around the floor on his hands and knees looking for his spectacles. "Did you SEE the sky fall?"

"Not exactly," faltered the watchman.

"What did you see?"

"Well, nothing, to be truthful," said the watchman. "When the crash came it shook me awake—I mean, awry—and then I picked myself up and ran as fast as I could to report to your Majesty."

The King found his spectacles between the pages of "The Case of the Missing Suspenders"—one of his favorite mysteries. The spectacles were cracked at the bridge but still usable. He put them on and rose to his feet.

"If the sky fell," he said reasonably, "it wouldn't fall in just one little piece. It would be on top of the whole palace. We'd be buried in sky!"

The watchman nodded dutifully. Then he blurted, "Never-the-less, only the sky falling could have made the earth quake so!"

"Well, I shall see for myself what the trouble is," said the King. He spoke bravely but he was far from feeling brave. He forced himself to march regally—with head up and shoulders back—down the corridors to the winding palace stairs while the watchman trailed meekly in his shadow.

As he marched he could hear his palace guards running down other corridors and from the streets he heard the sound of many people gathered there facing he dared not imagine what awful danger.

As he went out the door, the King drew his sword.

He expected to find a giant, a monster, a leviathan in the Public Square. What he found was a hole in the ground. The hole was about half a block long and two feet deep. It was surrounded by excited townspeople who walked 'round and 'round it searching for its cause.

Most of the hole covered the Public Gardens but at the very tip there was the crushed remains of the home of the Minister of Finance. As the Minister was away collecting taxes at the time and as he wasn't very popular anyway, no one was too upset by this but all were grateful that they themselves hadn't been in the way of whatever made the hole.

Then someone said that since they didn't know what had happened, who could say it might not happen again only this time the mountain or the sky or whatever it was might land on their very selves? This set off a panic and all the people rushed to their homes and hid under the beds thinking foolishly that if something did land on them at least it would take a little longer to get to them.

Meantime, the King's Ministers met in the Great Throne Room to decide on a course of action. "We must call out the militia," said the Minister of War. "We have been attacked by some foreign power with a strange new weapon."

The Court Astronomer rose to say, "It is my belief that we have been struck from outer space by a meteor which dissolved on contact with the earth and—"

The Minister of Agriculture interrupted. "We must move at once to protect the crops and livestock and—"

And so on and on, the Ministers grappled with the problem and so intent were they that not one of them noticed that the King himself was not present nor, indeed, had he been seen since he had first left the palace.

Ohio Opposes Lower Tariff

Solon Gives Views On Common Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will be in a weak bargaining position if it lowers tariffs in hopes that nations of the European Common Market will do the same, Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, said today.

Bow said the same arguments are used each time the Trade Agreements Act comes before Congress for renewal.

The act is due to expire and a debate over foreign trade policy is expected in Congress next year.

"The fact that the Common Market is raising new tariff barriers against us indicates to me that 27 years of concessions, which have cut our tariffs by more than 60 per cent, have been futile," Bow said in a statement.

"Our idealistic devotion to free trade has made the United States a golden market for the manufactured products of Europe, but we have somehow failed to instill in the Europeans the same altruistic attitude," Bow said.

He disputed the contention that "we must be prepared to offer the Common Market members greater opportunities to sell their products in this country in order to obtain concessions from them that will help our exporters."

The United States should "adopt a realistic, businesslike foreign trade policy" instead of "bargaining from his position of weakness," he said.

"Like the Common Market," he said, "we should take steps to protect our economy. Only then can trade negotiations hold promise of benefits for the workers and industries of this country."

He said his proposed bill on foreign trade would "establish the foundation for fruitful negotiations with the Common Market."

Ohio Woman Takes Off for Tanganyika

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Donald Pugh, chairman of the Sister City Committee of Mansfield, Ohio, who is en route to Africa, was guest of honor Monday at a luncheon of the Sister City Committee of New York.

Mrs. Pugh received a miniature gold-plated key to the city from Director of Commerce Robert W. Watt.

She was to leave Monday night for Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika, British East Africa, where she will be a special guest of the mayor. She will fly to Rome via Pan American Airline and change to a British Overseas Airways Corp. plane there for the remainder of the flight to Dar Es Salaam.

Mansfield is the only community in America to have a sister city in Africa, Mrs. Pugh said.

Dar Es Salaam has scheduled a special celebration Dec. 9 to mark another step toward independence by Tanganyika, a British protectorate, and Mrs. Pugh will participate.

She arrived in New York Sunday and has been sightseeing. She found the city "marvelous."

Outer Space Plan Urged

U.S. Offers U.N. Deal For Cooperation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson appealed Monday for immediate adoption of a four-point program of international cooperation in outer space to prevent "a runaway race into the unknown."

The chief U.S. delegate laid before the main U.N. Political Committee a resolution urging that steps be taken immediately to get global weather and communication projects under way without further delay.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin said he would comment on the proposals after he had studied them.

Stevenson offered to make U.S. space satellites available for use in international programs designed to improve weather forecasting and to establish worldwide television programs to speed the flow of educational and cultural information.

In a move to meet Soviet objections to the composition of the U.N. outer space committee, Stevenson proposed that two new African countries be added to expand the membership from 24 to 26 nations. These proposed members were Chad and Nigeria.

The Soviets have been insisting that the troika principle be accepted, giving equal representation to Communist, Western and nonaligned countries.

The U.S. program also proposed a U.N. declaration aimed at internationalizing all planets and other outer space bodies and called for the establishment of international registration of all space vehicles launchings.

Public School Prayer Faces Court Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Monday to consider whether it is unconstitutional for prayers to be said in public schools.

A petition submitted by parents of nine children in four schools in New Hyde Park, N.Y., contends the offering of prayer in schools violates the Constitution's principle of separation of church and state.

The New York State Board of Regents, the governing body of the state's public school system, had recommended to all local school boards that this prayer be used daily in opening exercises:

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessing upon us, our parents, our teachers, and our country."

The objecting parents said they were, variously, members of the Jewish faith, the Unitarian Church, the Society for Ethical Culture, and one parent is a non-believer.

They appealed to the high tribunal after New York courts ruled the prayer did not violate the Constitution.

Slugging of Editor Nets Fine, Sentence

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP)—Melton J. Stayton, 43, today drew a $100 fine and a 3-day jail sentence for slugging the local newspaper editor in a spat that grew out of racial incidents here.

City Judge Robert W. Brumfield meted out the sentence after Stayton, during his trial, switched to a plea of guilty of assault and battery on editor J. Oliver Emerich of the Enterprise-Journal.

Stayton told a newsman that he would appeal the sentence. He prepared to post $500 bond.

Judge Brumfield, before imposing the sentence, said he was disturbed by the situation here in which "soul is pitted against soul."

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

SYNOPSIS: Ferdinand, the king of Polydora, is dictating his letter to Santa Claus when suddenly there is an enormous crash. A palace watchman rushes in to announce that the sky has fallen!

CHAPTER TWO THE BIG HOLE

The king and his secretary peered out from under the mountain of detective stories that had buried them when the mysterious crash shook the palace.

"W-what on earth happened?" stammered the secretary.

"It — it's the sky!" cried the wide-eyed watchman. "It has fallen in the Public Square!"

"Nonsense!" murmured the King as he crawled around the floor on his hands and knees looking for his spectacles. "Did you SEE the sky fall?"

"Not exactly," faltered the watchman.

"What did you see?"

"Well, nothing, to be truthful," said the watchman. "When the crash came it shook me awake—I mean, awry—and then I picked myself up and ran as fast as I could to report to your Majesty."

The King found his spectacles between the pages of "The Case of the Missing Suspenders"—one of his favorite mysteries. The spectacles were cracked at the bridge but still usable. He put them on and rose to his feet.

"If the sky fell," he said reasonably, "it wouldn't fall in just one little piece. It would be on top of the whole palace. We'd be buried in sky!"

The watchman nodded dutifully. Then he blurted, "Never-the-less, only the sky falling could have made the earth quake so!"

"Well, I shall see for myself what the trouble is," said the King. He spoke bravely but he was far from feeling brave. He forced himself to march regally—with head up and shoulders back—down the corridors to the winding palace stairs while the watchman trailed meekly in his shadow.

As he marched he could hear his palace guards running down other corridors and from the streets he heard the sound of many people gathered there facing him as he dared not imagine what awful danger.

As he went out the door, the King drew his sword. He expected to find a giant, a monster, a leviathan in the Public Square. What he found was a hole in the ground. The hole was about half a block long and two feet deep. It was surrounded by excited townspeople who walked 'round and 'round it searching for its cause.

Most of the hole covered the Public Gardens but at the very

Cleveland Teamsters Start New Building

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ground was broken Monday for a two-story $750,000 welfare building for Teamster Local 436, which includes excavating, building material and construction drivers and race track employees.

The building is to be completed by late next summer. Cost is covered from a welfare fund to which employers contribute under the Teamster contract.

tip there was the crushed remains of the home of the Minister of Finance. As the Minister was away collecting taxes at the time and as he wasn't very popular anyway, no one was too upset by this but all were grateful that they themselves hadn't been in the way of whatever made the hole.

Then someone said that since they didn't know what had happened, who could say it might not happen again only this time the mountain or the sky or whatever it was might land on their very selves? This set off a panic and all the people rushed to their homes and hid under the beds thinking foolishly that if something did land on them at least it would take a little longer to get to them.

Meantime, the King's Ministers met in the Great Throne Room to decide on a course of action. "We must call out the militia," said the Minister of War. "We have been attacked by some foreign power with a strange new weapon."

The Court Astronomer rose to say, "It is my belief that we have been struck from outer space by a meteor which dissolved on contact with the earth and—"

The Minister of Agriculture interrupted, "We must move at once to protect the crops and livestock and—"

And so on and on, the Ministers grappled with the problem and so intent were they that not one of them noticed that the King himself was not present nor, indeed, had he been seen since he had first left the palace.

Ohioan Opposes Lower Tariff

Solon Gives Views On Common Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will be in a weak bargaining position if it lowers tariffs in hopes that nations of the European Common Market will do the same, Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, said today.

Bow said the same arguments are used each time the Trade Agreements Act comes before Congress for renewal.

The act is due to expire and a debate over foreign trade policy is expected in Congress next year.

"The fact that the Common Market is raising new tariff barriers against us indicates to me that 27 years of concessions, which have cut our tariffs by more than 60 per cent, have been futile," Bow said in a statement.

"Our idealistic devotion to free trade has made the United States a golden market for the manufactured products of Europe, but we have somehow failed to instill in the Europeans the same altruistic attitude," Bow said.

He disputed the contention that "we must be prepared to offer the Common Market members greater opportunities to sell their products in this country in order to obtain concessions from them that will help our exporters."

The United States should "adopt a realistic, businesslike foreign trade policy" instead of "bargaining from his position of weakness," he said.

"Like the Common Market," he said, "we should take steps to protect our economy. Only then can trade negotiations hold promise of benefits for the workers and industries of this country."

He said his proposed bill on foreign trade would "establish the foundation for fruitful negotiations with the Common Market."

Ohio Woman Takes Off for Tanganyika

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Donald Pugh, chairman of the Sister City Committee of Mansfield, Ohio, who is en route to Africa, was guest of honor Monday at a luncheon of the Sister City Committee of New York.

Mrs. Pugh received a miniature gold-plated key to the city from Director of Commerce Robert W. Watt.

She was to leave Monday night for Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika, British East Africa, where she will be a special guest of the mayor. She will fly to Rome via Pan American Airline and change to a British Overseas Airways Corp. plane there for the remainder of the flight to Dar Es Salaam.

Mansfield is the only community in America to have a sister city in Africa, Mrs. Pugh said.

Dar Es Salaam has scheduled a special celebration Dec. 9 to mark another step toward independence by Tanganyika, a British protectorate, and Mrs. Pugh will participate.

She arrived in New York Sunday and has been sightseeing. She found the city "marvelous."

Miss Peters, Mr. Bartunek Exchange Marriage Vows

MRS. STEVEN JAMES BARTUNEK

St. Anne's Church in Ortonville, Mich. was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Miss Frances A. Peters to Mr. Steven James Bartunek.

The bride is the daughter of former Laurelville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall E. Pritchard, 114 James St., Ortonville, Mich. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Della Bartunek, Flint, Mich., and the late Fred Bartunek.

The bride wore a gown of white peau de soie of simple elegance fashioned with a rounded neckline. She carried a bouquet in cascade arrangement of white feathered carnations, white roses and stephanotis. Her jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Anna Lagarde of Detroit, Mich., was maid of honor. She wore an emerald green peau de soie sheath dress with matching overskirt and carried a bouquet in crescent arrangement of bronze mums, croton leaves and stalks of natural wheat. Bridesmaid was Miss Eva Bartunek of Flint, Mich., sister of the bridegroom. She wore a champagne peau de soie sheath dress with matching overskirt and carried a bouquet in crescent arrangement of yellow mums, croton leaves and stalks of natural wheat.

Mr. Lawrence Bartunek of Flint, Mich., was his brother's best man. Serving as usher was Mr. Clyde W. Peters of Ortonville, Mich., brother of the bride.

Mrs. Pritchard selected for her daughter's wedding a beige sheath dress with dark brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow and white feathered carnations. Mrs. Bartunek, mother of the bridegroom, wore a kelly green sheath dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

After a reception in the church rectory, the newly-married couple left on a wedding trip to Chicago, Ill. They will establish their home in Flint, Mich.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of the University of Michigan and Flint College. They have B. A. degrees in Business Administration.

The bride is an ensign with the US Navy Women's Corp. and is stationed in Chicago, Ill.

The bridegroom is associated with the Michigan Employment Security Commission of Flint, Mich.

SHE'LL BE A QUEEN — Hope Cooke (above), 21-year-old New York debutante and senior at Sarah Lawrence College, will wed the Maharaj Kumar of Sikkim, a tiny country in the Himalayas along India's northern border. He is 38 and heir apparent to the Sikkim throne. They met three years ago in Darjeeling, India, while she was on a tour with girl friends.

Social Meet Held By WCTU Group

The Commercial Point WCTU met Friday in the home of Mrs. Hazel West for a regular meeting and Christmas party attended by seven members and three guests.

A noontime prayer began the covered dish luncheon which preceded the business session.

The business meeting began with roll call and the reading of the treasurer's report. Emma McGhee read a note of appreciation from the Soldier's and Sailor's Home in Dayton for a gift of rags sent by the WCTU.

The remainder of the business session was spent in sorting sales tax stamps.

The social hour featured a Christmas gift exchange enjoyed by all those present.

Community Circle Demonstration Club Holds Social, Candlemaking Workshop

The Pickaway County Fairground Coliseum was the scene of a busy day of activity Wednesday when the Community Circle Home Demonstration Group met for their last all-day meeting of the year.

The business session opened with roll call and minutes read by Mrs. Emily Berry, treasurer.

"Easier Ironing", the lesson topic for the day, was reported to all members present.

The 1961 officers were re-elected to head the group for the coming season.

The 1961 officers were re-elected to head the group for the coming season.

A delicious carry-in luncheon was served during the noon hour.

The table was centered with an arrangement featuring a large square white candle which was made by Mrs. Allen Ankrom who later explained the intricacies in making the arrangement and conducted a workshop demonstration on candlemaking.

To further exemplify the art of candlemaking, several members brought arrangements featuring candles. One of these was an artistic arrangement for the hall made by Mrs. L. E. Foreman. She used a black candle mold over 100 years old which contained about 10 white candles. This was surrounded by green holly and white cones, all placed on a dull black base.

Mrs. Glenn Rinehart made an arrangement featuring an old umbrella frame covered with green felt to resemble a Christmas tree. Small ornaments were placed on the frame with small bows at the point of each rib. Holly and candles were used to complete the unusual arrangement.

Mrs. Lewis Berry made an outstanding mantle arrangement using a tall lamp post candle surrounded by evergreen and white fern. A snow man surrounded by carolers, three red poinsettias, small Christmas bells and a cluster of ornaments completed the artistic arrangement.

An announcement was made of the Pickaway County Home Demonstration Club's annual Christmas party which is scheduled from 11:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church. Installation of 1962 officers will be held during the meeting. The program theme will be entitled, "Christmas in Pickaway County" which will feature decorating ideas for the Christmas season. The speaker will be Mrs. Marilyn Lee, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company advisor. Mrs. Lee has chosen the topic "Christmas Lighting". A luncheon will precede the business meeting.

Members attending the Wednesday meet were Mrs. Ethel Palsgrove, Mrs. Jennie Russell, Mrs. Glenn Rinehart, Mrs. Hannah M. Peters, Mrs. C. W. Hedges and Mrs. Howard Koch.

Mrs. Lewis Berry, Mrs. C. P. Heiskell, Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. A. L. Newlon, Mrs. Walter Cummins, Mrs. L. E. Foreman and Mrs. John Ankrom.

The Trinity Lutheran Couples Club will meet for a carry-in supper beginning at 6:30 p. m. Sunday in the Parish House.

The Rev. Paul I. Wachs will be guest speaker.

All members are requested to bring donations of new or used children's clothing.

The Women's Assn. of the Presbyterian Church assembled in the social rooms of the church on Friday afternoon for a winter quarterly meeting.

Mrs. Philip Hardy, president, presided at the business meeting. Plans were completed to hold a Christmas food sale starting at 10:30 a. m. on Dec. 15 at the church.

New group lists for the next two years were posted. All members were urged to find their place in Group A, B or C before the next meeting. This meeting will feature a carry-in dessert luncheon at the church on Jan. 12.

Incoming officers were installed as follows: Mrs. Howard Newell Stevenson, president; Mrs. David Yates, vice president; Mrs. Bishop Given, secretary; Mrs. Alfred Thomas, treasurer; and Mrs. Ray Davis, nominating committee member.

Mrs. Tom Renick and Mrs. H. N. Stevenson presented the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Renick narrated an account of the national meeting of the Presbyterian Women's organization which was held at Purdue University this summer. Mrs. Stevenson supplemented the account with colored slides and a recording of the proceedings and music. It was considered to be an effective and inspiring presentation of the work of church women.

Group A was hostess for the afternoon. Mrs. Hardy presided at a Christmas tea table.

Miss Peters, Mr. Bartunek Exchange Marriage Vows

MRS. STEVEN JAMES BARTUNEK

St. Anne's Church in Ortonville, Mich. was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Miss Frances A. Peters to Mr. Steven James Bartunek.

The bride is the daughter of former Laurelville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall E. Pritchard, 114 James St., Ortonville, Mich. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Della Bartunek, Flint, Mich., and the late Fred Bartunek.

The bride wore a gown of white peau de soie of simple elegance fashioned with a rounded neckline. She carried a bouquet in cascade arrangement of white feathered carnations, white roses and stephanotis. Her jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Anna Lagarde of Detroit, Mich., was maid of honor. She wore an emerald green peau de soie sheath dress with matching overskirt and carried a bouquet in crescent arrangement of bronze mums, croton leaves and stalks of natural wheat. Bridesmaid was Miss Eva Bartunek of Flint, Mich., sister of the bridegroom. She wore a champagne peau de soie sheath dress with matching overskirt and carried a bouquet in crescent arrangement of yellow mums, croton leaves and stalks of natural wheat.

Mr. Lawrence Bartunek of Flint, Mich., was his brother's best man. Serving as usher was Mr. Clyde W. Peters of Ortonville, Mich., brother of the bride.

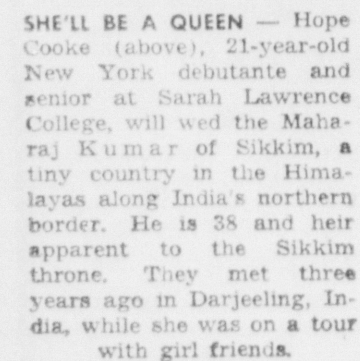

Mrs. Pritchard selected for her daughter's wedding a beige sheath dress with dark brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow and white feathered carnations. Mrs. Bartunek, mother of the bridegroom, wore a kelly green sheath dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

After a reception in the church rectory, the newly-married couple left on a wedding trip to Chicago, Ill. They will establish their home in Flint, Mich.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of the University of Michigan and Flint College. They have B. A. degrees in Business Administration.

The bride is an ensign with the US Navy Women's Corp. and is stationed in Chicago, Ill.

The bridegroom is associated with the Michigan Employment Security Commission of Flint, Mich.

SHE'LL BE A QUEEN — Hope Cooke (above), 21-year-old New York debutante and senior at Sarah Lawrence College, will wed the Maharaj Kumar of Sikkim, a tiny country in the Himalayas along India's northern border. He is 38 and heir apparent to the Sikkim throne. They met three years ago in Darjeeling, India, while she was on a tour with girl friends.

Social Meet Held By WCTU Group

The Commercial Point WCTU met Friday in the home of Mrs. Hazel West for a regular meeting and Christmas party attended by seven members and three guests.

A noontime prayer began the covered dish luncheon which preceded the business session.

The business meeting began with roll call and the reading of the treasurer's report. Emma McGhee read a note of appreciation from the Soldier's and Sailor's Home in Dayton for a gift of rags sent by the WCTU.

The remainder of the business session was spent in sorting sales tax stamps.

The social hour featured a Christmas gift exchange enjoyed by all those present.

Community Circle Demonstration Club Holds Social, Candlemaking Workshop

The Pickaway County Fairground Coliseum was the scene of a busy day of activity Wednesday when the Community Circle Home Demonstration Group met for their last all-day meeting of the year.

The business session opened with roll call and minutes read by Mrs. Emily Berry, treasurer. "Easier Ironing", the lesson topic for the day, was reported to all members present.

The 1961 officers were re-elected to head the group for the coming season.

The 1961 officers were re-elected to head the group for the coming season.

A delicious carry-in luncheon was served during the noon hour. The table was centered with an arrangement featuring a large square white candle which was made by Mrs. Allen Ankrom who later explained the intricacies in making the arrangement and conducted a workshop demonstration on candlemaking.

To further exemplify the art of candlemaking, several members brought arrangements featuring candles. One of these was an artistic arrangement for the hall made by Mrs. L. E. Foreman. She used a black candle mold over 100 years old which contained about 10 white candles. This was surrounded by green holly and white cones, all placed on a dull black base.

Mrs. Glenn Rinehart made an arrangement featuring an old umbrella frame covered with green felt to resemble a Christmas tree. Small ornaments were placed on the frame with small bows at the point of each rib. Holly and candles were used to complete the unusual arrangement.

Mrs. Lewis Berry made an outstanding mantle arrangement using a tall lamp post candle surrounded by evergreen and white fern. A snow man surrounded by carolers, three red poinsettias, small Christmas bells and a cluster of ornaments completed the artistic arrangement.

An announcement was made of the Pickaway County Home Demonstration Club's annual Christmas party which is scheduled from 11:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church. Installation of 1962 officers will be held during the meeting. The program theme will be entitled, "Christmas in Pickaway County" which will feature decorating ideas for the Christmas season. The speaker will be Mrs. Marilyn Lee, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company advisor. Mrs. Lee has chosen the topic "Christmas Lighting". A luncheon will precede the business meeting.

Members attending the Wednesday meet were Mrs. Ethel Palsgrove, Mrs. Jennie Russell, Mrs. Glenn Rinehart, Mrs. Hannah M. Peters, Mrs. C. W. Hedges and Mrs. Howard Koch.

Mrs. Lewis Berry, Mrs. C. P. Heiskell, Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. A. L. Newlon, Mrs. Walter Cummings, Mrs. L. E. Foreman and Mrs. John Ankrom.

Couples Club To Meet

The Trinity Lutheran Couples Club will meet for a carry-in supper beginning at 6:30 p. m. Sunday in the Parish House.

The Rev. Paul I. Wachs will be guest speaker.

All members are requested to bring donations of new or used children's clothing.

Presbyterian Women's Assn. Holds Winter Quarterly Meet

The Women's Assn. of the Presbyterian Church assembled in the social rooms of the church on Friday afternoon for a winter quarterly meeting.

Mrs. Philip Hardy, president, presided at the business meeting. Plans were completed to hold a Christmas food sale starting at 10:30 a. m. on Dec. 15 at the church.

New group lists for the next two years were posted. All members were urged to find their place in Group A, B or C before the next meeting. This meeting will feature a carry-in dessert luncheon at the church on Jan. 12.

Incoming officers were installed as follows: Mrs. Howard Newell Stevenson, president; Mrs. David Yates, vice president; Mrs. Bishop Given, secretary; Mrs. Alfred Thomas, treasurer; and Mrs. Ray Davis, nominating committee member.

Mrs. Tom Renick and Mrs. H. N. Stevenson presented the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Renick narrated an account of the national meeting of the Presbyterian Women's organization which was held at Purdue University this summer. Mrs. Stevenson supplemented the account with colored slides and a recording of the proceedings and music. It was considered to be an effective and inspiring presentation of the work of church women.

Group A was hostess for the afternoon. Mrs. Hardy presided at a Christmas tea table.

Patterson, Liston Win Handily; Duel By Pair Talked

TORONTO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson's fourth round knockout of lion-hearted Tom McNeely Jr., in a wild, eight-knockdown brawl and Sonny Liston's dynamic one-punch blitz of Albert Westphal stirred up the possibility today of a $10-million showdown between the two victors.

The battle of the Sixties may not come off soon. Although Patterson, according to those very close to him, wants it badly, Liston hungers for it, and promoters Al and Tom Bolan, among others, more than a year and a half," said Liston, the reinstated No. 1 contender from Philadelphia who has had several scrapes with the law.

The Patterson-McNeely wing-ding in which Patterson went down on a so-called slip, at Maple Leaf Gardens, and the Liston-Westphal quickie formed a closed-circuit television double-header that was shown in about 150 theatres and arenas in the United States and Canada. It was also beamed to homes in 51 community antenna community systems.

Irving B. Kahn, president of TelePrompTer, which handles the ancillary rights (TV, radio, movies), estimated that he could line up 1,500,000 seats at an average $5 a head for a Patterson-Liston fight. The gate at a place like New York's Yankee Stadium could produce a $25-million gross at a $100 top, experts figured.

The Patterson-McNeely scrap was a thriller from the very start. There were so many knockdowns and slips that arguments raged as to whether the former Michigan State football tackle was down eight, nine or ten times, and whether Patterson actually was dropped or slipped in the fourth round.

The Associated Press count had McNeely down eight times where he was given the mandatory eight-counts, and twice on slips which might have been knockdowns.

Referee Jersey Joe Walcott, the former heavyweight champion, ruled there were two slips by McNeely and that Patterson went down on a slip in the fourth round.

McNeely, a strong, 6-2, 197-pounder, was knocked down once in the first round, four times in the third, and three times in the 2-51 fourth round. Walcott ruled he also slipped once in the first round and once in the third.

Patterson admitted he saw hurt a couple of times in the third and fourth rounds.

"I knew when I was hit in the fourth round," said the champion, trim at 188½ pounds, "but I was never seriously in trouble."

Although he had the brawny but inexperienced McNeely going up and down like a rubber ball, Patterson still didn't look like a 10-1 favorite. Crude as he was the crewcut blond from Arlington, Mass., gave the slick champion plenty of trouble.

After being knocked down twice in the third round, McNeely, blood trickling from a wound under his right eye, stormed after Patterson like a wild man. He belted the surprised champion with a right to the jaw that hurt and brought roars from the crowd.

But Patterson took over and dropped McNeely twice more officially and once more with a punch but the last was ruled a slip.

The challenger, who had been unbeaten in 23 previous fights in a 3-13 year career, brought the fans to their feet in the fatal fourth when he clouted Patterson with a right. The champ's knees appeared to buckle and his hand touched the canvas, helping him to leap up quickly. That was when Walcott called it a slip.

Then Patterson, with his cornermen calling for him to press the attack, tore in and felled his bleeding victim for two eight counts with barrages and then finally with a left-hand combination to the jaw for the full count of ten.

It was Patterson's ninth title fight, all of them ending in knockouts. He lost one to Ingemar Johansson. Patterson's record now is 38-2 including 29 knockouts.

CLASSIC STANCE — Jack Cook (right) and Dever Jolly, a pair of returning lettermen, assume a wrestling position as old as the grappling art itself during a practice session in the Circleville High School gym. The CHS mat squad opens its season at 7 p. m. Friday at Dayton Mad River, seeking its 18th straight victory.

Mat Team To Open Friday

By RON COFFMAN

"It takes a finely conditioned athlete to compete successfully in organized amateur wrestling."

The speaker was Circleville High School head wrestling coach John Current, a man who has guided his varsity teams to the peak of interscholastic mat success since originating the wrestling program here five years ago.

In the way of competitive success, the "Current crop" of CHS grapplers is a bumper harvest of talent that will be gunning for an 18th straight triumph and improvement of a three-year 20-4 record when the season opens Friday night at Dayton Mad River. And coach Current expresses quiet confidence that the days of greater glory loom in the future.

Back from an undefeated 8-0 campaign chalked up last year in dual matches are juniors, Jack Cook, Tom Mogan, Dever Jolly and Tom Moore and seniors Vern Reichmanis and Dave Troutman, all letter winners. Cook placed third in the district meet in the 103-pound class while Mogan, in the 110-pound bracket, was second in district competition and among the top 10 in the entire state.

MOORE PLACED among the top eight in the central district in the 154 range. Reichmanis is a heavyweight while Jolly is classed among 133-pounders and Troutman is a lighter class.

As a team Circleville finished third in the Worthington Invitational and in a deadlock for fifth place honors in the district playoffs. This season a squad of about 75 boys of an original 102 is to meet wrestlers from three other schools in the first South Central Ohio League invitational meet Feb. 3 at Pleasant View.

An official loop championship cannot be declared since five SCOL members must compete in a sport for a circuit crown, but prospects are bright that within a year wrestling will be a full-fledged league program.

Current is quick to point out interscholastic mat play is governed by carefully prescribed regulations which prohibit dangerous holds or overly-strenuous exertion. All bouts are supervised by officials licensed by the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

The Circleville Booster Club's annual banquet for the high school football team is set for 6 p. m. today instead of 6:30 as previously announced. The honor event will be at the First EUB Church Service Center.

Rumors Say Browns Dicker To Get Syracuse Halfback

CHICAGO (AP) — Rumors persisted today that the Cleveland Browns are dicker to trade speedy Bobby Mitchell to Washington for Ernie Davis, the Syracuse All-America who was the first player to be picked in Monday's National Football League draft at Chicago.

The draft was still in its early rounds when rumors swept the netting that the Browns would give Mitchell and their first draft choice, Gary Collins, to Washington for Davis, a halfback.

Coach Paul Brown denied that one vehemently, saying he picked the Maryland end because "we want a good pass receiver and rated him as the top man." The coach said he "wouldn't make any such 2-for-1 deal."

However Brown admitted the possibility Mitchell alone might be traded for Davis. "Mitchell is scheduled to be in the Army until the middle of next October and that means we can't count on him," said Brown. "It might be to his advantage to be traded seeing he is stationed so close to Washington."

The 6-foot-2, 210-pound Davis has told friends he would like to play with the Browns, the coach remarked.

Brown got two picks on the first round, having acquired the Dallas selection as part of a trade last year. After choosing the 6-foot-3, 210-pound Collins, also a punter, the Browns picked a fast halfback from Western Illinois, Leroy Jackson.

When the Browns took Collins in fourth position, Bob Ferguson, the rugged Ohio State All-America fullback, still was available. Apparently Brown decided not to take Ferguson because of reports that the fullback has committed himself to the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League.

Also, the Browns have a good fullback, Jim Brown, and are more in need of good pass receivers.

Ferguson was grabbed promptly by Pittsburgh.

A surprise selection by the Browns was John Havlicek, Ohio State basketball player, who was picked on the seventh round as an end.

Havlicek, an All-Ohio quarterback at Bridgeport High School, called his selection "a chance of a lifetime" and said he is "seriously going to look into it."

He said he preferred basketball, "but pro football really interests me."

Havlicek, 6 - foot - 5 and 205 pounds, is captain of the Buckeye basketball squad and never played football at Ohio State.

Crowd, Winner Praise McNeely

TORONTO (AP) — As Tom McNeely Jr., said in tears to Tom McNeely Sr. as he left the ring after he had been knocked out in the fourth round by Floyd Patterson: "I tried, dad. I really tried."

The crowd of 7,813 that paid $106,740 at Maple Leaf Gardens Monday night shouted their agreement. When Tom Jr., left the ring after eight knockdowns and two or more "slipdowns," they gave the fighting Irishman a rousing cheer.

"Each time I hit him, he kept getting up," said Patterson after his successful defense of the world heavyweight title. "He had plenty of fight, a lot of courage."

Baylor Dunks 50 As Lakers Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor contributed 50 points, his high for the season, as the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Syracuse Nationals 131-120 Monday night in the National Basketball Association's only game.

Baylor scored 22 points in the first quarter and was held to six in the second. In this period the Syracuse rookie, Lee Shaffer, scored 20 points. Shaffer was high for the Nats with 32 points.

He said he preferred basketball, "but pro football really interests me."

Havlicek, 6 - foot - 5 and 205 pounds, is captain of the Buckeye basketball squad and never played football at Ohio State.

"It takes a finely conditioned athlete to compete successfully in organized amateur wrestling."

The speaker was Circleville High School head wrestling coach John Current, a man who has guided his varsity teams to the peak of interscholastic mat success since originating the wrestling program here five years ago.

In the way of competitive success, the "Current crop" of CHS grapplers is a bumper harvest of talent that will be gunning for an 18th straight triumph and improvement of a three-year 20-4 record when the season opens Friday night at Dayton Mad River. And coach Current expresses quiet confidence that the days of great glory loom in the future.

Back from an undefeated 8-0 campaign chalked up last year in dual matches are juniors, Jack Cook, Tom Mogan, Dever Jolly and Tom Moore and seniors Vern Reichmanis and Dave Troutman, all letter winners. Cook placed third in the district meet in the 103-pound class while Mogan, in the 110-pound bracket, was second in district competition and among the top 10 in the entire state.

MOORE PLACED among the top eight in the central district in the 154 range. Reichmanis is a heavyweight while Jolly is classed among 133-pounders and Troutman is a lighter class.

As a team Circleville finished third in the Worthington Invitational and in a deadlock for fifth place honors in the district playoffs. This season a squad of about 75 boys of an original 102 is to meet wrestlers from three other schools in the first South Central Ohio League invitational meet Feb. 3 at Pleasant View.

An official loop championship cannot be declared since five SCOL members must compete in a sport for a circuit crown, but prospects are bright that within a year wrestling will be a full-fledged league program.

Current is quick to point out interscholastic mat play is governed by carefully prescribed regulations which prohibit dangerous holds or overly strenuous exertion. All bouts are supervised by officials licensed by the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

A long-time foe of what he terms "fake professional actors posing as wrestlers" Current

Three Tests Slated In Industrial Loop

Stoutsville's Merchants and the Hunsicker Elevator squad go after their second wins without defeat tonight as the Pickaway County Industrial Basketball League season moves into its first full slate of competition at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The Stoutsville cagers square off against untested Anchor Hocking of Lancaster at 8 p. m. Hunsicker's tackle the VFW (0-1) in the evening's wrapup at 9. In the 7 p. m. opener the Williamsport Merchants lift the lid on their season against once-defeated Scioto Elks.

Grid Banquet at Six

The Circleville Booster Club's annual banquet for the high school football team is set for 6 p. m. today instead of 6:30 as previously announced. The honor event will be at the First EUB Church Service Center.

Whitey Fords 19th win of 1961 came on July 29. It was his 13th straight victory of the campaign

Rumors Say Browns Dicker To Get Syracuse Halfback

CHICAGO (AP) — Rumors persisted today that the Cleveland Browns are dicker to trade speedy Bobby Mitchell to Washington for Ernie Davis, the Syracuse All-America who was the first player to be picked in Monday's National Football League draft at Chicago.

The draft was still in its early rounds when rumors swept the netting that the Browns would give Mitchell and their first draft choice, Gary Collins, to Washington for Davis, a halfback.

Coach Paul Brown denied that one vehemently, saying he picked the Maryland end because "we want a good pass receiver and rated him as the top man." The coach said he "wouldn't make any such 2-for-1 deal."

However Brown admitted the possibility Mitchell alone might be traded for Davis. "Mitchell is scheduled to be in the Army until the middle of next October and that means we can't count on him," said Brown. "It might be to his advantage to be traded seeing he is stationed so close to Washington."

The 6-foot-2, 210-pound Davis has told friends he would like to play with the Browns, the coach remarked.

Brown got two picks on the first round, having acquired the Dallas selection as part of a trade last year. After choosing the 6-foot-3, 210-pound Collins, also a punter, the Browns picked a fast halfback from Western Illinois, Leroy Jackson.

When the Browns took Collins in fourth position, Bob Ferguson, the rugged Ohio State All-America fullback, still was available. Apparently Brown decided not to take Ferguson because of reports

Crowd, Winner Praise McNeely

TORONTO (AP) — As Tom McNeely Jr., said in tears to Tom McNeely Sr. as he left the ring after he had been knocked out in the fourth round by Floyd Patterson: "I tried, dad. I really tried."

The crowd of 7,813 that paid $106,740 at Maple Leaf Gardens Monday night shouted their agreement. When Tom Jr., left the ring after eight knockdowns and two or more "slipdowns," they gave the fighting Irishman a rousing cheer.

"Each time I hit him, he kept getting up," said Patterson after his successful defense of the world heavyweight title. "He had plenty of fight, a lot of courage."

Baylor Dunks 50 As Lakers Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor contributed 50 points, his high for the season, as the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Syracuse Nationals 131-120 Monday night in the National Basketball Association's only game.

Baylor scored 22 points in the first quarter and was held to six in the second. In this period the Syracuse rookie, Lee Shaffer, scored 20 points. Shaffer was high for the Nats with 32

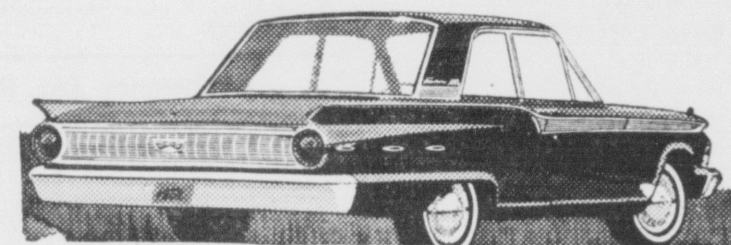

ously going to look into it."

He said he preferred basketball, "but pro football really interests me."

Havlicek, 6-foot-5 and 205 pounds, is captain of the Buckeye basketball squad and never played football at Ohio State.

Rattling Good Record

RESCUE, Calif. (AP) — Halley
Wing thinks he set a record of 15 rattlesnakes to a gallon of gasoline.

Sing was chasing a large rattlesnake near this community in the gold mining country of the Sierra Nevada foothills when the snake disappeared into a burrow.

Recalling advice that gasoline fumes would bring snakes out, he poured a gallon into the burrow.
Out came the big snake — three feet long — and 14 little rattlers.
Wing killed them all.

Middletown Pilot Named Coach of Year

Niles Youth Voted As State's No. 1 Backfield Player

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Glenn (Tiger) Ellison, revered veteran pilot of Middletown for 17 years, is Ohio's Class AA high school football Coach of the Year for 1961.

The balding boss of the Butler County boys—better known for their basketball prowess—won the laurels today in the annual Associated Press poll of sports writers, sportscasters and coaches.

Ellison, a native of Pittsboro, Miss., and a graduate of Denison University, will be 51 in February. A coach for 29 years, he succeeded Elmo Lingrel as the Middle mentor 17 seasons ago. Since then he's compiled a 117-44-7 record.

Starting this year with a team touted to finish far down in the rack and losing his quarterback in the early going, he led the Middies to an 8-1 record and 10th place in the final Associated Press poll. His lone loss was to Hamilton Garfield, rated sixth in the state, and the tie was with seventh-ranked Kettering Fairmont.

Ellison coached the Southern All-Stars to victory in the 1949 North-South game at Massillon. Twice he was assistant Rebel coach in the big classic, but the downstates lost both. The "Tiger" is married and has three daughters.

For years Ellison has been prominent in the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association and has served as its president.

Lowell Shaffer of Bellevue's third-ranked team finished second to Ellison in the Coach-of-the-Year race, both nosing out Tony Mason of Niles and Leo Strang of Massillon, mentors of the two top teams. Mason and Strang deadlocked for third.

Others well up in the voting were: Paul Greene of Huron, John McVey of Canton Central, Eddie Wentz of Akron St. Vincent—who will coach the Northern All-Stars if the game is played at Canton in August—Bob Stewart of Columbus Eastmore, Tom Osborne of Jackson, Bob Brugge of Parma, and Bob Wion of Martins Ferry, who will coach the Rebels in the August classic.

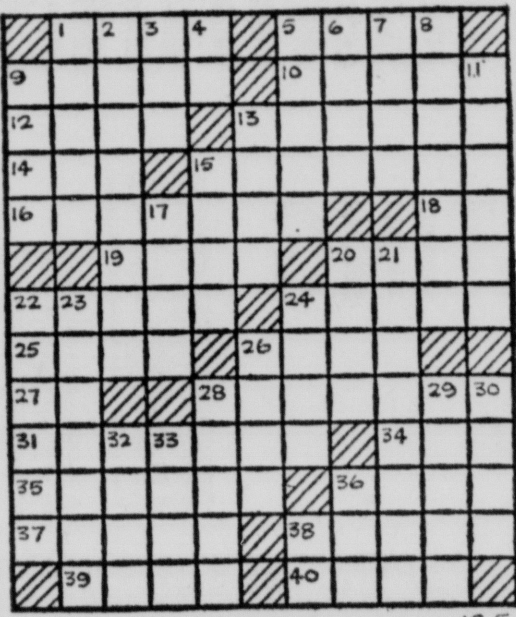

Rick Sygar of Niles was named the state's No. 1 back—just a notch ahead of Henry Weaver of Mansfield, Dick Snyder of North Canton, Steward Williams of Sandusky, Ray Matthews of Akron Garfield, and Sa. Price of Toledo Scott.

The Lineman-of-the-Year award wound up in a four-way tie for the first time in history. In it were Doug Van Horn of Columbus Eastmore, Ken Ivan of Massillon, Gary Miller of Bellevue, and Pete Melchior of Canton Central.

4 Duck Hunters Handed U.S. Fines

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Four hunters who admitted violating federal migratory bird laws were fined Monday by U. S. Commissioner John J. Barrone.

Fined $200 was Daniel J. Galbreath, 33, of Columbus, owner of the Erie County marsh where the hunters were arrested Nov. 18. Levied $100 each were his hunting companions, Robert J. Edler, 33, of Columbus, and two Louisvilles. Ky. men, Harry Babcock, 33, and Rowland Whitney, 65.

The hunters pleaded guilty of hunting with live decoys, shooting over a baited marsh and hunting after hours.

The commissioner limited the fines to the first charge. He dismissed the after-hours charge and levied no penalty on the baiting.

Alabama Voted National Grid Championship

Ohio State Is Second In Final Poll of College Football Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — Alabama was voted the 1961 Associated Press national football champion today, a goal set for the Crimson Tide by master rebuilder Paul (Bear) Bryant.

In the final poll of board members, defense-minded Alabama drew 452 of a possible 480 points to edge Big Ten champion Ohio State which collected 436.

Coach Bryant's eleven concluded a perfect season by crushing Auburn 34-0 Saturday, their fifth straight shutout, and will face ninth-ranked Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Bama is riding a 17-game winning streak.

Texas vaulted over Louisiana State into third spot, 348 points to 335. Mississippi, Minnesota, Colorado, Michigan State, Arkansas and Utah State complete the top 10 selected on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second and so forth.

Bryant, the "other end" from Don Hutson in 1934, returned to his alma mater four years ago. As he had done previously at Maryland, Kentucky and Texas A&M, Bryant inherited a loser but quickly converted it into a winner.

Though this is the first national crown for Alabama in the 26 years of the AP poll, it is the third for a Southeastern Conference team in the past five seasons.

The Tide's seventh unbeaten, untied campaign—first since the 1945 unit led by Harry Gilmer—is built on a grudging defense as was that of Auburn (1957) and LSU (1958). Alabama led the nation in defense against scoring, allowing only 22 points, as well as in total defense and rushing defense yardage. Bryant's boys surrendered two touchdowns on passes, one on the ground, a field goal and a conversion kick.

Bryant, a superb recruiter and harsh taskmaster, did not relent until the ninth game of the 10-game schedule. When his charges whipped Georgia Tech 10-0, Bear said: "They convinced me they are a great team."

The final poll results with first-place votes in parenthesis:

- | | |
|------------------------|-----|
| 1. Alabama | 452 |

5 Mink Coats Stolen From Store in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Thieves stole five full-length mink coats from the Rike-Kumler department store here, police disclosed Monday.

One thief climbed to the top of the storage room, cut a hole through the ceiling and apparently passed the $13,400 worth of minks to a confederate, police said.

Middletown Pilot Named Coach of Year

Niles Youth Voted As State's No. 1 Backfield Player

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Glenn (Tiger) Ellison, revered veteran pilot of Middletown for 17 years, is Ohio's Class AA high school football Coach of the Year for 1961.

The balding boss of the Butler County boys—better known for their basketball prowess—won the laurels today in the annual Associated Press poll of sports writers, sportscasters and coaches.

Ellison, a native of Pittsboro, Miss., and a graduate of Denison University, will be 51 in February. A coach for 29 years, he succeeded Elmo Lingrel as the Middle mentor 17 seasons ago. Since then he's compiled a 117-44-7 record.

Starting this year with a team touted to finish far down in the ruck and losing his quarterback in the early going, he led the Middies to an 8-1-1 record and 10th place in the final Associated Press poll. His lone loss was to Hamilton Garfield, rated sixth in the state, and the tie was with seventh-ranked Kettering Fairmont.

Ellison coached the Southern All-Stars to victory in the 1949 North-South game at Massillon. Twice he was assistant Rebel coach in the big classic, but the downstaters lost both. The "Tiger" is married and has three daughters.

For years Ellison has been prominent in the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association and has served as its president.

Lowell Shaffer of Bellevue's third-ranked team finished second to Ellison in the Coach-of-the-Year race, both nosing out Tony Mason of Niles and Leo Strang of Massillon, mentors of the two top teams. Mason and Strang deadlocked for third.

Others well up in the voting were: Paul Greene of Huron, John McVey of Canton Central, Eddie Wentz of Akron St. Vincent—who will coach the Northern All-Stars if the game is played at Canton in August—Bob Stewart of Columbus Eastmoor, Tom Osborne of Jackson, Bob Brugge of Parma, and Bob Wion of Martins Ferry, who will coach the Rebels in the August classic.

Rick Sygar of Niles was named the state's No. 1 back—just a notch ahead of Henry Weaver of Mansfield, Dick Snyder of North Canton, Steward Williams of Sandusky, Ray Matthews of Akron Garfield, and Sa. Price of Toledo Scott.

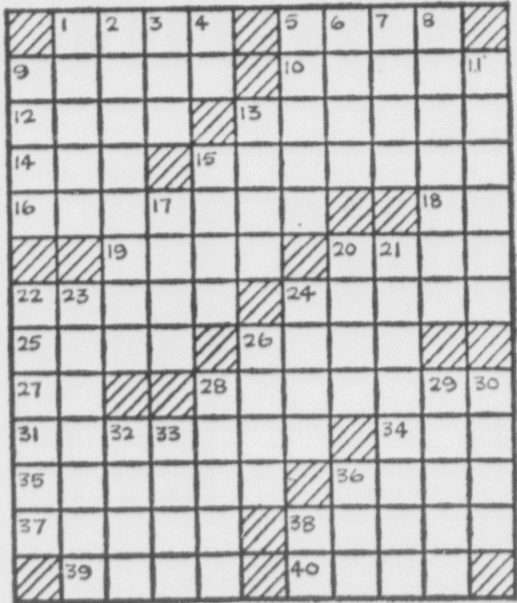

The Lineman-of-the-Year award wound up in a four-way tie for the first time in history. It is Doug Van Horn of Columbus Eastmoor, Ken Ivan of Massillon, Gary Miller of Bellevue, and Pete Melchior of Canton Central.

4 Duck Hunters Handed U.S. Fines

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Four hunters who admitted violating federal migratory bird laws were fined Monday by U. S. Commissioner John J. Barrone.

Fined $200 was Daniel J. Galbreath, 33, of Columbus, owner of the Erie County marsh where the hunters were arrested Nov. 18. Levied $100 each were his hunting companions, Robert J. Edler, 33, of Columbus, and two Louisville, Ky. men, Harry Babcock, 33, and Rowland Whitney, 65.

The hunters pleaded guilty of hunting with live decoys, shooting over a baited marsh and hunting after hours.

The commissioner limited the fines to the first charge. He dismissed the after-hours charge and levied no penalty on the baiting

Alabama Voted National Grid Championship

Ohio State Is Second In Final Poll of College Football Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — Alabama was voted the 1961 Associated Press national football champion today, a goal set for the Crimson Tide by master rebuilder Paul (Bear) Bryant.

In the final poll of board members, defense-minded Alabama drew 452 of a possible 480 points to edge Big Ten champion Ohio State which collected 436.

Coach Bryant's eleven concluded a perfect season by crushing Auburn 34-0 Saturday, their fifth straight shutout, and will face ninth-ranked Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. 'Bama is riding a 17-game winning streak.

Texas vaulted over Louisiana State into third spot, 348 points to 335. Mississippi, Minnesota, Colorado, Michigan State, Arkansas and Utah State complete the top 10 selected on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second and so forth.

Bryant, the "other end" from Don Hutson in 1934, returned to his alma mater four years ago. As he had done previously at Maryland, Kentucky and Texas A&M, Bryant inherited a loser but quickly converted it into a winner.

Though this is the first national crown for Alabama in the 26 years of the AP poll, it is the third for a Southeastern Conference team in the past five seasons.

The Tide's seventh unbeaten, untied campaign—first since the 1945 unit led by Harry Gilmer—is built on a grudging defense as was that of Auburn (1957) and LSU (1958). Alabama led the nation in defense against scoring, allowing only 22 points, as well as in total defense and rushing defense yardage. Bryant's boys surrendered two touchdowns on passes, one on the ground, a field goal and a conversion kick.

Bryant, a superb recruiter and harsh taskmaster, did not relent until the ninth game of the 10-game schedule. When his charges whipped Georgia Tech 10-0, Bear said: "They convinced me they are a great team."

The final poll results with first-place votes in parenthesis:

- Alabama 452
- Ohio State (20) 436
- Texas 348
- Louisiana State (1) 335
- Mississippi (1) 334
- Minnesota 225
- Colorado 171
- Michigan State 128
- Arkansas 105
- Utah State 33

5 Mink Coats Stolen From Store in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Thieves stole five full-length mink coats from the Rike-Kumler department store here, police disclosed Monday.

One thief climbed to the top of the storage room, cut a hole through the ceiling and apparently passed the $13,400 worth of minks to a confederate, police said.

21 Electrical Manufacturers Face Lawsuits

44 Utilities Seek Damages as Result Of Price-Fix Expose

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-four electric utility companies—taking their cue from the federal government's antitrust action last February—have filed a dozen damage suits against 21 electrical manufacturers.

The utilities charge price-rigging among the manufacturers and seek triple damages. The exact amount sought, the suits say, will be specified after further investigation. Estimates of the claims have ranged from $100 million to billions.

Chief defendants in the suits filed Monday are the General Electric Co. and the Westinghouse Electric Corp., each named in 11 suits, and the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., named in nine.

Both GE and Westinghouse declared they believed their customers had received fair value for the prices paid.

Allis-Chalmers, located in West Allis, Wis., withheld comment.

All the defendants were among the 29 manufacturers which, along with 45 of their top executives, were fined $1.9 million in Philadelphia U.S. District Court last February. Seven jail terms and 25 suspended sentences were imposed.

GE and Westinghouse and their executives suffered almost half of the fines imposed at that time. The plaintiff companies cover northeastern states west to Indiana and south to Virginia and represent about 18 per cent of the nation's privately owned utilities.

They seek damages for overcharging which they say resulted from the conspiracies. Products involved include steam turbine generators, power transformers and outdoor circuit breakers. Such civil suits must be filed within a year of the criminal conviction.

At the time of the government antitrust action, 19 of the firms pleaded guilty and 10 pleaded no contest.

Named as defendants with General Electric, Westinghouse and Allis-Chalmers:

Hubbard and Co., Joslyn Manufacturing and Supply Co., McGraw-Edison Co., Ohio Brass Co., H. K. Porter Co., Sangamo Electric Co., Moloney Electric Co., Wagner Electric Corp., Federal Pacific Electric Co., I.T.E. Circuit Breaker Co., Foster Wheeler Corp., Ingersoll-Rand Co., C. H. Wheeler Manufacturing Co., Worthington Corp., Kuhlman Electric Co., A.B. Chance Co., Lapp Insulator Co. and the Porcelain Insulator Corp.

The plaintiffs:

Atlantic City Electric Co., Baltimore Gas and Electric Co., Boston Edison Co., Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., Central Maine Power Co., Central Vermont Public Service Corp., Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co., Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., Concord Electric Co., Connecticut Light and Power Co.

Also, Dayton Power and Light Co., and The Toledo Edison Co.

Checkup Is Made of Gripes Heard on Reservist Callup

NEW YORK (AP)—Complaints of poor morale and supply shortages are arising at some of the camps where National Guard and reserve units have been called back into service.

As during World War II and the Korean War, the military is being accused of using "hurry up and wait" tactics—hurrying men into uniform and then not being prepared for them.

Has the military actually let down the men it called back to the colors or are the complaints, as draft director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey commented, simply the traditional griping of soldiers?

Pentagon sources say that out of 119,000 Army reservists and Guardsmen called back, less than 1 per cent have put in complaints. This estimate, the sources said, was based on letters and other communications received at all Army levels.

Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison, president of the National Guard Association, said "the griping of a few individuals" is casting a shadow upon the patriotism and spirited response of the Guardsmen and reservists.

"These complaints, in some instances," he said, "are from men who have already served on extended active duty and resent a second callup when so many of their friends and neighbors have performed no military service."

He said there should be changes in the law and policy.

The matter reached a climax last week when President Kennedy devoted a part of his news conference to answering critics.

The President, whose own record includes heroic wartime service in the Navy, took particular note of complaints about Ft. Lewis, Wash.

He said the men there may be

4 Congress Elections Set

Democrats Confident Of Retaining Seats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four special elections for the House of Representatives are coming up to fill seats formerly held by Democrats. Three of the contests will be held this month in the South.

Democratic campaign spokesmen say they believe all four districts will remain Democratic, but they have their fingers crossed. They say they no longer are taking the South for granted. A Michigan election also could prove tough.

Republican leaders appear none too optimistic, but say they are quite hopeful of breaking the long Republican drought in Louisiana where two conservatives are trying for the seat left vacant by the death of Rep. Overton Brooks. This election is Dec. 19.

The other elections are Dec. 16 and 23 to fill vacancies in Texas caused by the resignation of Rep. Frank Ikard and the death of Speaker Sam Rayburn, and Feb. 13 in Michigan for the seat of the late Rep. Louis C. Rabaut.

In Louisiana's 4th District, the candidates are Democrat Joe Waggoner, oil products wholesaler, and Republican Charlton H. Lyons Sr., Shreveport oil dealer.

They were named in a primary. Although Republican Richard M. Nixon carried the Louisiana 4th in 1960, the vote was split three ways, with an uncommitted slate of electors polling about 35 per cent and President Kennedy getting 27 against Nixon's 38.

Brooks won the district last year 2 to 1. Republicans count their chances tougher in both Texas scraps. They say their best hope lies in a new Texas law requiring a winner to poll a majority, otherwise the top two go into a run-off. The Texas candidates were not named in primaries.

In each Texas election there is only one Republican running against a group of Democrats. Republicans hope the Democrats will split the vote sufficiently to let their man reach the run-off.

In Rayburn's 4th District there are five Democrats against one Republican candidate. The last Republican to run in this district got 800 votes in 1946.

The Michigan election is in the Detroit-Grosse Pointe area where Rabaut won 13 House races broken by a lone defeat in 1946. Democrats say Rabaut had a strong personal hold on the district and they are not going to get caught napping in what they call a potential danger spot there. Rabaut carried the district—the 14th—last year 132,602 to 78,548.

Candidates for the Rabaut seat will be chosen in Jan. 23 primary.

serving in a cold and windy camp, but they "are rendering the same kind of service to our country as an airplane standing at 15-minute alert at a SAC base in Omaha is rendering."

"We call them in to prevent a war, not to fight a war."

But he asked them to recognize that they are contributing to the security of their families and he held out hope they may be sent home short of their required 12 months of service.

Maj. Gen. Edward H. McDaniel, Army inspector general, is investigating conditions at Ft. Lewis, where Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., has made accusations of "criminal negligence."

The Wisconsin representative started a controversy over whether the Army made adequate preparations there to take care of his state's 32nd Infantry Division.

He called it a "lost division" with obsolete and poorly operating weapons and short supplies.

This brought a denial by the Army and a charge from the division commander, Maj. Gen. H. A. Smith, that O'Konski had damaged the unit's morale and made the troops appear a "bunch of crybabies."

Most of O'Konski's charges also were contradicted indirectly by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who followed him on an inspection of the camp.

Proxmire reported he found many things wrong, but that the Army was making a sincere effort to straighten them out.

Other complaints have developed at Ft. Polk, La., where National Guardsmen from a number of Southern and Western states have been training.

A group of nearly 100 enlisted men from the 49th Armored Division there wrote a letter to Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., complaining about conditions.

They also protested that while they had prior service "back at home there are those who have never been called to duty."

An information officer at the camp declared that since a part of it had been closed since 1954, some of the buildings naturally "were going to deteriorate."

But he said that conditions were improving rapidly and that many of the shortages complained of already have been filled.

Congressional complaints also arose over Air National Guard units called up and sent overseas.

Rep. George Huddleston, D-Ala., said he had received reports that some members of the 117th Reconnaissance Wing, now based in Paris, were just sitting around with nothing to do.

Pentagon officials blamed it on air traffic control problems and said discussions were under way with French authorities to clear up the situation.

Reporter Jack Foisie of the San Francisco Chronicle visited Ft. Ord in California and said troops were spending their time waiting for equipment, listening to old lectures, seeing old training films and "manicuring" their barracks areas.

Despite the criticism of some camps, reports from other military installations indicated few complaints.

2 Democrats Obtain State Poll Petitions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two men took out petitions Monday for state office, but one, Lt. Gov. John W. Donahey, declined to say for what office he will run.

The other petitioner—taker was Springfield attorney John P. McDonough, seeking to qualify for the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

Donahey, son of late Ohio governor and U. S. senator A. Vic Donahey, said he had been urged to seek re-election or run for governor or state auditor. He said he had made no decision.

"I want to see how cold the water may be next January before I jump in," Democrat Donahey told newsmen.

McDonough, 32, father of four, is an assistant Ohio attorney general in the highway section. He has conducted two unsuccessful campaigns—for state senator and state representative—and has never held elective office. He is a graduate of Wittenberg University and holds a law degree from Ohio State.

McDonough's boss, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for governor next year.

Reichelderfer To Head K of P

Vaughn Reichelderfer will serve as chancellor commander for Phillips Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, for the coming year.

Reichelderfer was named to head the local organization following second nominations and election of officers last night. Lloyd Fisher was elected vice chancellor.

The new chancellor commander's slate of officers will be: Gary Winner, prelate; Allen Ankrom, master of work; Raymond Reichelderfer, financial secretary; O. E. Barr, secretary; George W. Mast, treasurer; Russell Adams, master of arms; Charles Winner, inner guard; Ray Winner, outer guard.

Cecil Andrews was re-elected to a trustee post.

THE NEW board of officers includes a father and sons combination. Sharing the honors are the father, Charles Winner, and his two sons, Gary and Ray.

Lunch was served following the election period. A formal installation of new officers will be conducted Jan. 8.

Rep. Wallace Is High Bidder At Kiwanis Welfare Auction

Pickaway County Rep. Ed Wallace was high bidder for the first copy of the annual Kiwanis Welfare newspaper sold here last night.

Wallace led all bidders, paying $80 for the initial copy of the benefit paper. Second high payment was by Otto Guenther, owner of two stores here. He paid $40.

Third high purchasers were Richard Koch, new owner of the local Kippy Kit Co., and Dr. Richard Samuel, local dentist. Each obtained his edition at $35.

Next high on the list was County Prosecutor Robert H. Huffer who placed $30 on the line.

PICKAWAY County Commissioner Charles Morris ranked high in the bidding with a $25 purchase. Harold Clifton, local auto parts store owner, paid $22 and Charles Schieber, operator of Bingman Drugs, bought his issue at $20.

Robert McKelvey of Risch Drug Store paid $10. Individual copies for $5 went to Frank Marion, Jack White, Virgil Cress, Charles Mummaw and the Circleville High School Key Club.

Wallace, a steady bidder throughout, was presented a special plaque by the Kiwanis Club for his worthy effort. The award will be placed in the Courthouse for public observation.

Rep. Wallace said it was an honor to purchase the first copy. He termed the newspaper a fine project and a worthwhile endeavor to help the youth of Circleville and Pickaway County.

The state representative added a little humor by pointing out that it also was an honor for him, as a member of the local Rotary Club, to give Kiwanis a "little boost". This statement fired up the bidding to new heights, following no small amount of chuckles and laughter.

The successful auction was handled in excellent fashion by Kiwanian and auctioneer Forrest Brown. He maintained a fast pace in the bidding and prompted a large crowd to full participation.

THE AUCTION alone netted Kiwanis about $330, a figure well ahead of last year's similar project.

Additional papers were sold in all sections of the city by an army of Kiwanians, Junior Chamber of Commerce volunteers and members of the Key Club who braved heavy rains for a canvass of Circleville.

All proceeds from the Welfare Edition will be used in the many aid to youth projects sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. This year's paper, consisting of many pictures, stories, advertisements by area merchants and compliments of local professional men, was under the chairmanship of David Hoffman. He received a vote of thanks from Kiwanis for a job well done.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A new cold air mass rushed into the state Monday night on winds of 40 to 50 miles per hour. Moderate to heavy showers preceded the cold front and temperatures plunged almost 30 degrees below Monday's high readings.

Early this morning, Dayton reported 31, Columbus and Findlay 32 and Cincinnati 35.

There will be considerable cloudiness over the northeast half of the state today, and strong west winds will be general. Clearing is expected tonight, and by Wednesday morning temperatures will be mostly in the 20s.

Winds will diminish tonight and Wednesday. It will be sunny Wednesday morning, but cloudiness will increase during the afternoon.

Clermont Judge Shuns Bid for Fourth Term

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in years, there will be serious competition for the office of Clermont County Common Pleas Court judge.

Judge Harry Britton, who had run unopposed in the last three elections, said Monday he is not a candidate for reelection in 1962. Judge Britton, a Democrat, has held the post for 18 years.
